Changes Turn Face...

Regis College 2003

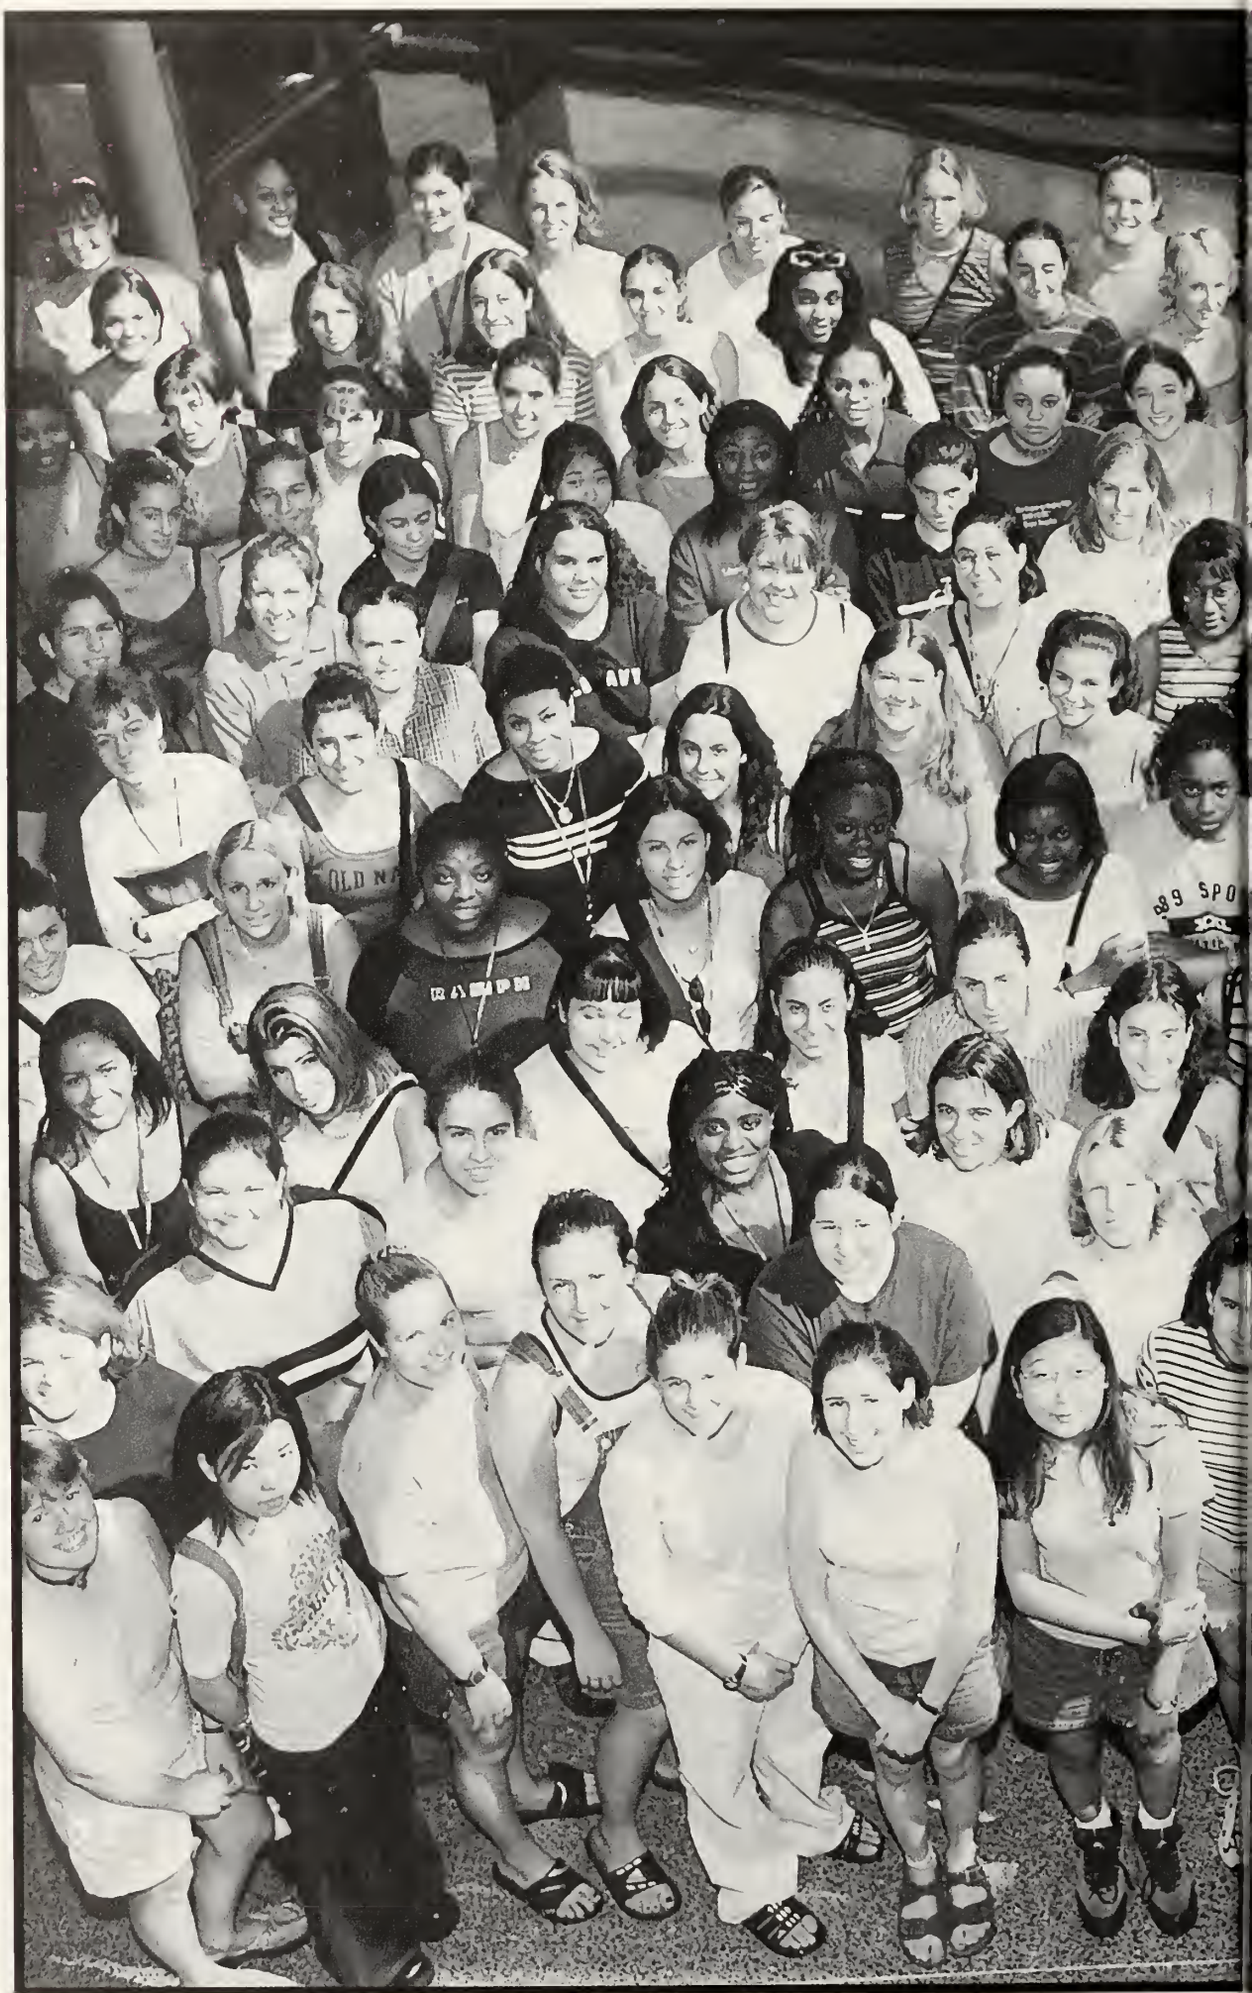

Table of Contents

President's Letter 2
SGA President and Vice President Letter 3
Yearbook Editors' Letters 4
Yearbook Dedication 5
Regis College History 6
Freshman Year 8
Sophomore Year 10
Junior Year 12
Ring Ceremony 14
Senior Portraits 17
Regis Traditions 33
Fall BBQ 34
September 11 Memorial Service 35
Cap and Gown Ceremony 36
Hoop Rolling 38
Oktoberfest 40
Latina Celebration 42
Mother-Daughter Luncheon 44
Daughters of Heaven 46
Christmas Banquet 48
Glee Club Christmas Concert 50
Snow Ball 52
Clubs and Activities 55
Athletic Teams 73
Senior Section 91
Thank You 92
Out & About 94
Celebrations 96
Ladies Night 98
Study Abroad 100
Say What? 102
Roommates 104
Heritage Scholars 106
Advertisements 109
"Summer Rain" 128

President's Letter

Dear Class of 2003,

You have heard the saying: "The more things change, the more they are the same." But during this past year all of you have lived the ancient core of the saying – the scientific idea that change, not changelessness, is the very substance, the blossoming of reality. Seniors are living principles of change, people becoming more truly themselves.

Your Regis education, drawing on the power of the arts and sciences that help produce the spiritual revolution psychology calls "becoming a person," has certainly addressed development. History, religious studies and biology alike communicate this. Physics, mathematics, and computer logic have demonstrated "random" revolution to you, too, when you defied your own intellectual expectations. Your classes in design, communications, political science, sociology, nursing have trained you in contemporary skills and habits of mind as agents of change and spirit as well.

So these college years have been about nothing if not growth and transformation, the leading out of an inner possibility that has enabled you not merely to get a job, but to face constant change and have a life, to be someone.

As you leave Regis and make new connections, I wish you the self-mastery that balances life, meaningful work, and community in complete freedom and responsibility. Whatever you do, wherever you go, in whatever way you earn your living, let your own good understanding and decision-making in relation to others show in good faith. This community has formed you through relationships with other students, with faculty, staff, with your family, with the world you have met in internships and service. Stay connected to Regis – a source of meaning and resource of energy for you. Stay alive and growing in the human dialogue – and let community upon community discover you as one of this century's sages of transformation.

Mary Jane England, MD
President, Regis College

"Adventure isn't hanging on a rope off the side of a mountain. Adventure is an attitude that we must apply to the day to day obstacles of life—facing new challenges, seizing new opportunities, testing our resources against the unknown and in the process, discovering our own unique potential."

-John Amatt

We hope that we served you well as officers of the Student Government Association. It was our intention to help add so many fond memories to your years at Regis College. We wanted what was best for the Regis Community and worked hard to make your experiences enjoyable and unforgettable. From planning many events to changing outdated policies to renovating the college, we strived to satisfy your needs. We are glad that we got to be a part of improving life on campus.

We think back on all these memories and one important factor seems to stand out—we enjoyed them with friends. These memories and the people we shared them with should make permanent footprints on our hearts.

Well, we have received our diplomas and made our final steps off the stage. We look back and think these past four years have been some of the best years of our lives, but our journey does not end here. We will go and be the best women we can be.

Throughout this journey we will never forget where we came from, Regis College, and the women that we developed into. We are proud of you and wish you nothing but the best.

Best of Luck in the Future,

Danielle DiMartino
Student Government President

Michaela Ellis
Student Government Executive Vice President

Mahatma Gandhi said you have to be the change you wish to see in the world today. Throughout my time at Regis, I have changed my vision of self and my perspective of others. I have become more understanding and been able to laugh at my never-ending comedic life in a positive way. If anyone remembers me for anything, they would remember my love of laughter because it is the best cure for changing times and broken hearts.

I am glad I did everything, met everyone and made my mistakes. Those changes make me the person that I am today. There are no sad tears or regrets but there are rivers of happiness and excitement for my friends, community and family. For the past four years, I looked at my mom and talked to her about my life at school, work and beyond. I have made her laugh at my prude manner and marvel at the way in which I think. She is my biggest fan and critic; strengthening me and allowing me to see the beauty of change and life. I thank her wit, love, and support through all the years.

~Amelia

Can we be funny?
Yeah..but why start now?
(giggles from the crowd)
~Lorne Micheals to Mayor Giuliani at the beginning of SNL the week after 9-11

"Let's see colors that have never been seen! Let's go to places no one has been!" ~U2

I look back on the first year and realize how much I've changed. I've smiled with you, I've cried with you, I've partied with you, I've studied with you, I've learned with you, but most importantly, I've learned from you! And here we are.

I thank my CH roommates and my Family for being there in the good and the bad. For teaching me and showing what friendship and love are; I am forever changed. I do not look back with regret and wish for change; I look back to learn, then I turn to face the exciting future with my new knowledge.

~ K C

Dedication

It was here where we found a voice to laugh and to cry and where others found their calling on stage. We looked at art in new perspectives. We lost ourselves in performances, in special traditions, such as Christmas banquet and Cap and Gown, and opened our minds to things that are going on in the world. It was the Fine Arts Center, which celebrated its ten-year anniversary. It was also a part of one woman's vision to have a center for the arts and humanities to be the pulse of the campus and the enduring classes to come. This person lends herself to the Regis tradition—being a strong, determined, organized, humble and charismatic woman with amazing grace and spirit. The Class of 2003 dedicates the yearbook to Rosemary Noon, Director of Communication and Cultural Affairs.

Rosemary Noon is a mother, an alumna, a leader, a wife and a friend. She has been a strength to all who know her and an inspiration to those who are encouraged by her words of wisdom and compassion. If you walk into her office there is a quote by William Yeats on her desk that reads, "Being Irish, he had an abiding sense of tragedy which sustained him through temporary periods of joy." This quote gives air to the prism of understanding she has for Regis and beyond. That is why we delight in her well-being and continue to watch, grow and learn from her every day she is here. The Class of 2003 echoes many "thank yous" for your hard work and generous spirit.

"Rosemary is one of my favorite women at Regis College. Thank you for being you!"

~K.C. Salter

The Regis History

College Hall- Regis College's first, new colonial-style facility was built in 1928. It was built to accommodate classrooms, a library, executive offices, an assembly hall, dormitory space, dining hall, and social rooms. The north wing was added to College Hall in 1930 to provide for a gym, a chapel and quarters for Home Economics Department. Additional dormitory rooms were also added with this wing. Regis College was the first Catholic college for women built as a residential college in Massachusetts. Today, College Hall houses administrative/executive offices, classrooms, faculty offices, computer labs, the College Hall Chapel, and dormitory space. College Hall is connected by The Tunnel to St. Joseph's Hall, Student Union, and is directly connected to Athletic Building.

Completed in 1993, the Fine Arts Center is a place for students to develop and express their creative gifts. The centerpiece of the 40,000-square foot arts center is the 650-seat Eleanor Welch Casey Theatre, which is named for the late Mrs. Casey, an alumna and devoted patron of the arts. In addition to the Casey Theatre, there is a Black Box rehearsal theater. The Fine Arts Center integrates cutting edge technology into the curriculum of art, music and drama and positions the College as a cultural leader for the community. The Center includes traditional painting studios as well as computer labs for graphic design. The music lab includes integrated electronic keyboards and computers. The Carney Gallery, named for Laetitia Albiani Carney '58, enables the College to exhibit traditional and free-standing visual art.

Built in 1955, the Library was designed by S. Macrina, Librarian. It houses more than 129,000 volumes today. Through the WEBnet Consortium, which is comprised of Babson, Bentley, Pine Manor and Regis College, library users have access to more than 300,000 volumes. The Library also has online databases and resources. On the third floor is the Nelson Center, an education resource library.

Cardinal O'Connell Hall (Science Building), built in 1938, was named for the Cardinal who had played an extensive role in the College's founding and fostering. A beautiful modern wing was added to the building in 1970 to provide for more lecture halls and laboratories necessitated by the addition of more scientific endeavors, specifically psychology. The Science Building was closed for renovation and remodeled from May to December 2000.

The Athletic Center, built in 1982, houses a 75-foot, six-lane swimming pool and an area that can be used interchangeably for two indoor tennis courts, a basketball court, and volleyball and badminton courts. A dance studio and racquetball and squash courts are also included in the Center. In 1996, the Mary Carr Simeone '45 Fitness Center opened. It features Nautilus and cardiovascular exercise equipment.

Freshman Year

Looking back, it seems that just yesterday we were first-years, not knowing how much change and experience lay ahead of us over the next four years. Regis offered most of us a clean slate, a chance to start anew, away from parents, high school, and childhood. Some of us experienced homesicknesses, others a surge of excitement from our newly-granted independence.

As school year began, we quickly realized just how different and exciting college could be. Ramen Noodles and Easy Mac became staples of our diet, pajama pants and t-shirts were acceptable attire for class, and if you got five hours of sleep a night you were doing well.

In between sitting through first-year foundation meetings, midnight runs to Dunkins (or through the halls), late night cram sessions, and explorations at other campuses and Boston, the school year flew by and, before long, it was May. Our rooms, which seemed so cold and uninviting in September, were now crammed full with pictures and memories of newly-formed friendships and fun, and we knew that, although we still had a long way to go, we had changed a bit, from girls to women.

— Katie Blais

Dr. Smailes welcomes and spends some quality time in Connecticut with Rise Program members Jennifer, Maria, Wilma, and Emily.

Shannon and Karrie make Giselle pose for a picture before she is allowed to shower.

Sarah, Katie, Sarah, Carole, Fiona, and Michaela dress up for a night of trick or treating and painting Weston red and gold.

Brooksie and Janet take time off from homework to enjoy the night by ice skating.

Domitilla Hall's third floor extravaganza to Boston for the circus included Andrea, KC, Danielle, Emily, Iris, Kate, Audra, Kelly, and Holly.

Sam, Mary, and Kristen smile courageously as they slide down the snowy hill in front of Morrison House.

Katie and Kara wait in the Fine Arts Center Atrium — Kara "supports" her roommate's induction into the honor society.

Jennifer, Abby and Jennifer unwind after a long day of classes.

Gen and Jo befriend each other during their sophomore year at Regis. It was the first year for both transfer students who learned how to multiply life by the power of two as friends.

For the Christmas Banquet, we as a class had to served dinner. We practiced our tray-carrying moves and were given specific instructions not to spill anything on Lynn Coleman, Sister Lee Hogan and Sister Sheila Megley. Can you spot yourself in the glamorous photo?

Members of the Pit enjoyed one of the highlights of the year, the Christmas Semi-Formal. They pose before rushing the dance floor to jam in their gowns.

Sophomore year blew in a wind of comfort because we weren't first year students anymore. We returned in September, eager to visit with friends and share stories from our summer. In the fall, we were invited as a class to have dinner with President Sister Shelia in the Fine Arts Center and later to have desserts at Morrison House. We ate, laughed, and bonded together in the midst of it all. Although they were often altered over the next years, we began to choose our majors. At the annual Christmas Banquet, we pulled together to serve our peers, and faculty and staff the dinner.

Slowly we were maturing as both a class and women. We still found time for laughter, fun, and priceless moments with our friends. Just as freshmen year quickly raced by, sophomore did as well. Then suddenly it was May and many of us held the Daisy Chain for the Class of 2001 at Commencement. We began to realize that something was changing. It began to sink in that in just two short years we would be the ones walking to the Tower Gardens to get our degrees.

—Katie Blais

Kim, Courtney, Michaela, and Danielle show off their dresses after spending the day getting ready for the formal.

Carole, Katie, and Carolyn, walk along Nahant Beach two hours before watching the sunset.

Diana, Rachel, and Laura enjoy Spring Weekend.

This was a year of great change for all of us. Now coming into our own as upperclass women, it was the time to give thought to what lay ahead, like senior year and graduation. Junior year held different changes for all of us.

For some, it was a year for travel; to see what it is like to be in London or Spain. For others, it was an incredible learning experience; taking the knowledge one gains about their field and applying it in the Real World.

As Sarah Turi stated, "Junior year was a year when everything was coming together—being able to practice what we have been taught through internships and the wonderful opportunity to be able to take a semester abroad. There were just so many possibilities that year. It was amazing."

As we were all elated after having survived our first week of classes, we were faced with the biggest change of all; a new uncertain world. Our lives were seen in halves: before and after September 11. The tragic events that occurred on that horrible day forced us all to change our outlook on life and assess the importance of life, liberty and the human spirit.

Although junior year was filled with many changes, somehow we managed to pull through. We made it through with many laughs, smiles and tears that carried us to Senior Year.

~Melissa McGoldrick

Kate, Becky, Sam, Sharyl and Kelly embark on a trip to Florida for Spring Break.

Mia, Julie, Caitlin, Priscilla, Lynne, Alicia, Kathy, Sarah and Caitlin are princesses for a night at the Christmas Semi-Formal.

College Hall residents watch with excitement the winning play that brought the Patriots their Super Bowl victory.

Denise and Maria pose before they paint the town blue.

Jen, Katie, Trish and Lauren participate in the Light the Night Walk in memory of a good friend.

Carole, Diana, Katie, Carolyn and Maki prepare a home-cooked meal in the College Hall kitchen.

After the ceremony, we gathered as a class to display our rings and celebrate with friends and family.

As part of the blessing ceremony, Dr. England turns over Melissa's ring the first time.

Suzanne and her family talk about the importance of the ceremony.

Katie, KC, and Lauren complete the final touches on the "Who I Am" banner which was displayed at the ceremony.

Kristen, Katie, Karrie, Melissa, Becky, Shannon, and Cheryl flaunt their beautiful rings.

Katie and her dad reflect on the ceremony and discuss her ring over hors d'oeuvres.

Father Kremmell begins the blessing of the rings after performing Mass.

The Class of 2003 participated in the annual tradition of the Junior Ring Ceremony in October 2001. Since the college was founded in 1927, the juniors of Regis College have participated in the Junior Ring ceremony and had their class rings blessed by the president of Regis College and the dean of students. This ceremony symbolizes maturity. Years ago, most college students only completed a two-year program. For Regis women, it was a huge accomplishment to enter into their junior year.

Each year, the Junior Class officers create a theme for the Ring Ceremony. For the Class of 2003, President Rabecca Brann, Vice President Laura Brooks, Secretary Kelly Enman, and Treasurer Shannon Callahan-Higgins chose the theme "Who I Am," which derived from the title of a song by Leanne Womack. The song was chosen to express who we are as individuals and what makes us be the women we are today. The members of the Junior Class included a banner with this tradition. Lauren Iorio, Katie Sullivan, and KC Salter worked together to create the Class of 2003's banner. Katie, KC, and I (Lauren) found a way to incorporate the theme and state how Regis women succeed academically, spiritually, socially, emotionally, occupationally, and physically.

We felt honored to participate in the Ring Ceremony and, in addition, we felt a sense of accomplishment to have entered into our third year of college. With about 100 Regis College women participating, there was a variety of items chosen by the women, each to describe "Who I Am."

~Lauren Iorio and Tricia Roberts

Senior Portraits

Turn and Face Yourself...

Kate Adams

Albertina Andrade

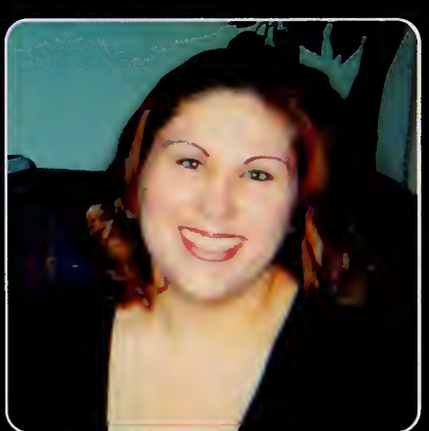
Amelia Aubourg

Aneika Astacio

Jillian Balser

Karrie Barber

Wilma Bare



Joanna Bastarache

Sabina Berkovich

Kara Bilotta

Katie Blais

Courtni Bolden

Aida Boza

Rachel Brackley

Rabecca Brann

Laura Brooks

Minh-Phoung Bui

Shannon Callahan-Higgins

Mary Caulfield

Alexandra Centeio

Sherline Chery

Gina Ciaramella

Christine Connolly

Denise Cole

Elizabeth Cuff

Kimberly Curtis

Carolyn Dandurand

Jennifer DeSimone

Lynne DeSisto

Julie DeStefano

Penney Dillon

Danielle DiMartino

Marie Dyna Don

It was the tribute to her sister's unfortunate passing that led to Rachel Brackley's landing at Regis College. It was through the compassion and wannth that was shown to Rachel and her family at that time that led her to Regis years later. The same affection and kindness that is shown to her on a daily basis kept her here.

Rachel has taken Regis and made it her own by joining Student Government Association, by being not only a Caucus member but an officer, a Glee Club member and officer, by serving on the Ireland Committee, becoming an orientation leader and, for the past two years, partaking in the Resident Life Program by being a Resident Assistant. However, what is most important to Rachel is what Regis has taught her— that she can be herself and never doubt who she is and, most of all, never doubt what she believes.

The Regis College community has allowed this friendly, hard-working, compassionate individual to find her strength in this world and never forget her talents. Regis has let her be the leader that she wanted to become, let her grow to be the individual that she has developed into. Rachel, who is majoring in biochemistry, hopes to go on to graduate school and one day herself become a professor. When asked if she had any hopes or aspirations for the Regis College Community, Rachel replied that she wishes that it continues to provide the best education for women, as do all the Regis College graduates. ~by Sarah Turi

A true friend is someone who thinks you are a good egg even though she knows that you are slightly cracked. -Anonymous

Rachel and her Mom at Mother/Daughter 2001

Born in Haiti, 21-year-old Sherline Chery moved to the United States when she was seven years old, and grew up in Boston. A senior business management major, Chery is currently the president of AHANA. Her other campus activities included being an orientation leader and being the head fashion show coordinator for the cultural enlightenment show.

Sherline stated that Regis has helped her to become more mature and intellectual. She said she could not imagine not being in a college setting. "It's been a place of growth," she stated. "I started as a girl, and I'm leaving a woman."

Sherline also shared that one of her favorite memories at Regis was the big snowstorm freshman year. She and her friends stole trays from the cafeteria and went sledding! Like many other juniors, Sherline also got to experience studying abroad last year in London.

After graduation, Sherline plans to attend the Nurse Practitioner Master's Program here at Regis. She hopes to one day own her own business, and travel the world.

Sherline would not be here today if it was not for her mother, whom she thanks for her love, support, and encouragement. "All my accomplishments are not just for me, you had a big role in making them possible. All the advice you've given, I've used throughout the years. You are the love of my life, and I thank you for all the great values you've instilled in me. I will be forever grateful."

~by Melissa McGoldrick

"Dare to be different. Be a pioneer; be a leader. Be tender. Continue to give birth to new ideas, stop wasting time on being mundane and mediocre." —Oprah Winfrey.

Michaela Ellis

Kelly Enman

Janine Farrar

Maria Ferri

Jennifer Fils

Greta Flaherty

Lauren Forcucci

Charlene Foss

Alison Fournier

Katherine Frazier

Sharyl Geary

Deborah-Ann Giusti

Erica Glennon

Lillian Goncalves

Jennifer Greenough

Erica Haas

Kay Harrington

Shannon Harris

Kathleen Hart

Mayu Hashimoto

Carrieanne Hickman

Elizabeth Hill

Elizabeth T. Hill

Maria Home

Mary Kate Huie

Lauren Iorio

Johanna Jackson

Melanie Karonis

Sevan Kassabian

Lyia Kledong

Catherine Kuhl

Oanh Le

Amy Leavitt

Johanna's Cultural Enlightenment performance 2001

Bubbly, driven, and inspired are just some of the traits that have become synonymous with Johanna Jackson. While she is fueled by a love for graphic design, her passion is on stage at the Casey Theatre performing in the Regis College Theatre Company.

Her credits include I'll Be Seeing You, Lysistrata and Jungle Book, and doing the technical work behind the Black Box Theatre production Out of Me. She became involved in the Theatre Department when Associate Professor Wendy Lement encouraged her to try out. Out of all her roles, Johanna says her most challenging was in the Jungle Book.

"It is hard. I just try to connect with the character. I am speaking as the person, trying to get the feel of the character. I had to do a lot of research and watch the Discovery Channel," said the communication and graphic design major.

When she is not acting or working on a graphic piece, she is enjoying a book, listening to soulful music such as Musiq and Maxwell, shopping and playing video games. She also enjoys hanging out with her friends. While she remains grounded in her craft, Jackson is sad about leaving Regis. Looking to the future, Johanna is optimistic about what it holds because of her time at Regis.

"I am leaving with lots of memories, good and bad. It helped to shape me and taught me a lot about women and power. I can stand proud and outshine because I am a Regis graduate," affirmed Jackson, who aspires to be a well-known graphic designer in an urban environment.

~Amelia Aubourg

Maryanne Leavitt

Courtney LeBlanc

Soraia Lima

Sarah Lombardo

Ruth Lu

Diana Lynch

Cindy Ma

Maureen Mahoney

Danielle Margarida

Amy Martel

Keona Martin

Christina Martinez

Heather McCarthy

Gillian Caitlin McClellan

Melissa McGoldrick

Fiona McDevitt

Kaitlyn McDonough

Janet McNiff

Carole Meehan

JulieAnne Mercier

Amanda Mitchell

Amanda Mogan

Rebecca Mores

Lauren Natale

Samantha Nay

Fabiola Nazaire

Hanh Nguyen

Lisa Pepgjonaj

Lauren Jean Phaneuf

Lauren Reebe

A friend and joy to all, Dyna Don hails from Cambridge and did not pick Regis College as her first choice. Due to the aid package and the determination of one admission counselor, Don came to Regis and stayed. Her journey at Regis has been a busy one. Her list of credentials includes being a resident assistant, a powerful voice and leader in Gospel Choir, and founder of Women of Worship, a prayer and Bible group, in Campus Ministry. She has also received the prestigious Service and Leadership Award from the senior class for her outstanding commitment to the class and community.

In addition to that, she credits her life to her family, to God and to Lisa Almeida who always had time for everyone. Dyna hopes to be that welcoming and open to all whom she encounters. When she is not running to the next activity or helping any of her residents, Dyna enjoys being in the company of friends and reading. One may wonder what is next in store for this busy elementary education major? "I hope to continue in residence life becoming a director and pursue a master's degree in higher education," said Don.

Though she is sad about leaving, she is thankful for the many opportunities that she has received through the school. Through her time at Regis, she has learned to be open to everything and everyone. She feels at ease that she can do anything because she is a part of the Regis tradition.

Dyna and Lynn Coleman at Cap and Gown.

Emily Riedle

Jennie Reis

Andrea Restor

Patricia Roberts

Jennifer Robidoux

Jacquelyn Rose

K.C. Salter

Kristin Smith

Satya Som

Miho Someya

Nicole Sotiropoulos

Kathryn Stadolnik

Stephanie Stenmon

Katie Sullivan

Melissa Tabor

Holly Talvy

Sorraia Tavares

Holly Temme

Eileen Thompson

Sheri Thorpe

Nadia Torres

Erin Tressler

Abby Trivino

Sarah Turi

Makiko Wada

Lauren Wiggin

Francisca Xavier

Yulia Zubko

Danielle Black

Michelle Pereira

Regis Traditions

Turn and Face your Community...

BBQ

The picnic tables and chairs in the College Hall Circle were set for the Welcome Back Barbecue. Good weather, good food and time with friends set the scene for the barbecue. Though everything screamed jubilation, it marked the beginning of the end of an era. We welcomed students of the Art Institute of New England, but we also recognized that we had entered the final stretch as seniors. Endless giggles of summer stories, talk of hectic schedules, tests, homework, staying up until three in the morning with your roommates, and extracurricular activities were something we had to appreciate. As we looked to our left and our right, this was a special time to find beauty in fellowship because, as seniors, it was our last barbecue.

As the sound of flash cameras echoed in the background, everyone thoroughly enjoyed eating the picnic meal of hamburgers, hot dogs, chicken, salad, and soda. We enjoyed the sounds of music provided by the Regis Welcome Back BBQ band and danced carefree. It was a time for us to reacquaint ourselves with one another, notice the change on campus with male students around, and talk about plans for the future or lack thereof. It was also a time to sit back with a Coke in hand and relish the joy of being young and what lies ahead.

—Nicole DiIeso

This was the first year that we welcomed men to Regis—from AI New England.

Lynne, Priscilla and friends pose while they wait in line for food.

Amy, Katie, Trish and Lauren relax and enjoy their food while talking about summer break.

KC, Miho, Kuniko and friends kicked back and exchanged jokes over food.

Katie, Carolyn and friends caught up with each other and talked about summer vacation.

How many cuties could we cram into one picture? Let us try and see.

Maria, Sarah, Sasha and Kat made an impression on John, an AI student.

We not only welcomed our old friends but our new ones as well.

Jen writes a reflection after the remembrance ceremony for September 11th.

We cannot be silent
We must not be silent
We will not be silent.
We continue to build nuclear weapons
The poor are being trampled on Violence abounds.
We can call upon world leaders
We must call upon world leaders
We will call upon world leaders
To establish peace within our world
But first, we must be reconciled with ourselves
We must be reconciled with one another
We must be reconciled with God

"The calendar changes,
And the leaves turn
From green to gold,
Yet I am lost still
In a moment,
A day without end,
And now they tell me
It is time to go back to normal.
Almost laughing,
I turn and wonder
Where,
Where is my normal?"

exerpt from "Where Is My Normal?"
by Lawrence E. Johnson

Sherline shared the experience of what happened at her church during the week of September 11th.

The tree was important because it represents peace for the world and the lost loved ones.

At Ground Zero, hope for New York City took the form of a mural with a powerful message.

After a selection from the Glee Club, members of the Regis community bowed their heads in prayer.

After the long wait in line, Penney and Amelia were robed by Professor Jutras and Professor Roman.

As Katie walks away, Professor Squeff offers words of encouragement.

Whenever I think of leaders, my grandmother's name will always rise to the top. Often, we search for leaders, not realizing that those we seek are frequently sitting next to us, members of our family, our classmates. The true leaders are those who lead silently and purposefully, who serve wholeheartedly and continually without asking in return. They are the people, like my grandmother, who made a mean peanutbutter cookie, who lead and serve in the most inspiring way. These are the leaders, these are the Class of 2003 at Regis College. Thank you again for this immense honor, I am absolutely taken aback by the unending generosity of the women of this college and especially of my classmates. And thank you, my fellow classmates, my family, my friends, my professors, all of the administration, and everyone else who has helped along the way, for being leaders in my life.

— Laura Phaneuf

Laura, upon receiving her Leadership & Service Award, gave a poignant speech on leadership.

As the entire class filed out of the auditorium, we had to take a group shot. Can you tell where the photographer is?

After the Leadership & Service Awards were presented, Kelly was one of the first to be robed by Dr. Jutras.

Cap & Gown

Sherline, Denise, Abby and Maria take a minute to enjoy the Cap & Gown experience.

Professor Roman gave Dyna words of wisdom as she was being robed.

"I sing because I'm happy
I sing because I'm free
His eyes are on the sparrow
And I know he watches
And I know he watches
I know he watches me."

Excerpt from "His eyes are on the sparrow."
~sung by Dyna

"Your academic robe is a particular external sign of both accomplishment and responsibility. You are, as are those of us related in any way to this college, connected to a special gift given to this college, through the Sisters of Saint Joseph and to each of us."

Excerpt from Prof. McCaughey-Oreszak's address

Sister Rosemary gave the final word, praising the class for going through their rite of passage and for many good things to come.

When does senior year begin for you?

For some it begins when they return from their summer vacation and others when they get their first assignments. For most, it does not begin until the Cap & Gown Ceremony.

Cap & Gown acknowledges the arrival of the class to its senior year. College President Mary Jane England and Academic Affairs Vice President Pamela Menke topped off the ceremony with speeches describing the Class of 2003 as brilliant and different, yet part of a tradition.

The Class of 2003 nominated three seniors as candidates for the person with the best leadership and service skills. The deserving recipients were Laura Phaneuf, Dyna Don and Danielle DiMartino, who gave speeches thanking their loved ones and the class for nominating them. Also, as part of the ceremony, members receive their academic gowns from professors of the mathematics, management, chemistry and English departments. As the now official Class of 2003 walked off the stage, the new stature of the members was evident to all in the Regis community.

—Amelia Aubourg

Hoop Rolling

After the heartwarming Cap & Gown Ceremony, members of the Class of 2003 rushed to get their hoops and head to the front lawn. On a crisp autumn day, the sun still alive and bright, students enjoyed taking part in another tradition called Hoop Rolling.

Hoop Rolling is a custom valued for its ability to allow everyone to be creative and show how Regis has changed them. The wooden hoops are bought at the students' expense and decorated with a theme. Hoops are judged prior to the race on originality, school spirit, and creativity. Once they have their hoops in hand, seniors go to the lawn in front of Morrison House to race against their peers. Legend holds that the winner of the race is the first to start a successful career.

Three heats are set up, and the first two winners advance to the final heat. This year's winners were: Laura Brooks taking first place in the race; Maria Ferri taking the "most school spirit" award; and Johanna Jackson winning "most creative." Winners were presented flowers and were applauded by family, friends, and staff. A picnic lunch followed the hoop rolling.

—Amelia Aubourg

Seniors display the creativity of their hoop artwork in the Carney Gallery.

Laura Brooks and Rachel Brackley prepare for the hoop rolling race.

After the senior class photo, students rush the Carney Gallery floor in a frenzy, eager to start the race.

Kate's parents stand proud as the message to her parents is loud and clear.

Though Lauren and Trish lost the creativity part of the contest, they prove beauty is in the eye of the beholder.

Slow and steady wins the race as students roll their hoops.

Winners of the Hoop Rolling Olympics were Laura, Johanna, Maria and Laura.

This hoop displayed the three ways of survival for Regis.

Johanna, upon receiving her award, stood wth friends for a picture.

Hoops were the main attraction coming in all colors and fashions.

Laura wins the hoop race and leaves

Today and in the years to come, may each of you in sunshine and in shadow, hold all your memories safe in your keeping and at the same time go forth as women of excellence and gentleness to improve the human condition.

Excerpt from Prof. McCaughey-Oreszak's address

Becky, Sam, Mary, Shannon, Kirsten, Katie, Sharyl, and Eileen hang tight after the race.

Friends forever: KC, Katie, Kara, Laura, Danielle, and Amy smile with grace after the race.

Jen, Katie, Lynn, Laura, Katyln, Cassie, Makiko, and Dana gather around to enojoy the ROCKtoberfest 'feast' that Aramark prepared.

Solangel, Nadia, Carolina, and Anieka join in on the

Rachel is Brooksie the Devil's catch of the night. (Devil #1 at the Masquerade Bash!)

Ali the Devil was lucky and caught her lovely aunt, Kathy. (Devil #2 at the Masquerade Bash!)

Looks like Laura the Devil found Gwen Stefanie! No wait, it's Danielle with her home-made Gwen tank. (Devil #3 at the Masquerade Bash!)

Looks like Diana is straight out of Harry Potter! Even the magic of Harry Potter can't help her escape from the Loud Jamie Devil! (Devil #4 at the Masquerade Bash!)

Octoberfest

festivities that the Psychic Fair had to offer.

Medieval Princess Carole, and Medieval Princess Maki show their friends from a distant land, Katie and Jen, their Medieval Regis kingdom.

Cari sports the witch costume. Let's hope she's a good witch!

Oh my gosh! The Mega '80s are back! Lauren, Trish, Amy, and Laura show us how stylin' the trend really is.

When did Regis obtain a Greek sculpture? It didn't—it's just Katie posing as the beautiful Cupid!

Medieval Princess KC sacrifices herself to Kara "The Rack" Bilotta? Did Cupid make her way to these two?

In addition to Spring Weekend, Octoberfest is one weekend Regis College students should never miss. On the last weekend of October each year, the Board of Programmers plans a series of events to entertain Regis students and each year there is a different name for Octoberfest. For the past four years, the themes have been Oktoberfest, Fright Fest, Shoktoberfest and Rocktoberfest.

One tradition Regis always sticks to is the TT. Normally, BOP designs the dance to have that spooky effect. For the Class of 2003, freshmen through junior year, the Board of Programmers continued the tradition of creating a Haunted Tunnel. With scary masks and a theme in different rooms, students had to walk through in order to reach the TT. For example, sophomore year, BOP decided to use an Alfred Hitchcock theme based on different movies such as Psycho and Birds.

Octoberfest includes a dance, a haunted tunnel, and other various events. For the past two years, BOP has planned a Psychic Fair. This included psychics, palm readers, and numerologists, among others. Each year, BOP also has a movie night where movies such as Alfred Hitchcock films and Scary Movie are played. This past year we had a Pub Night where two of the Spring Weekend 2002 bands came to perform.

This is a great time for students at Regis to come together and party all weekend long. Students look forward to this weekend each year to put the books aside and enjoy the events and each other.

~Lauren Iorio and Trish Roberts

Latina Celebration

Faculty, staff and students came out to take part in the Latina Celebration, a festival that showcased a great deal of talent this year. It is a celebration that is about representing your culture and being proud of your heritage. Some students dressed in their traditional Spanish garb while others danced to the rhythmic sounds of salsa, bachata and meringue. The highlight of the night was when the guest speaker, France Lopez, who is a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association. She shared her experiences of being a lawyer and how important it is to be your own person. She stressed the value of doing the right thing and always doing what you love. She also offered advice that you should always be able to laugh at yourself.

—Amelia Aubourg

La facultad, el personal y los estudiantes salieron sus dormitorios y casas para tomar parte en la Celebración Latina. La celebración es una fiesta que nos presentó mucho talento este año. Es una celebración que está sobre la representación de su cultura y el orgullo de su herencia. Algunas estudiantes vistieron en ropa tradicional mientras que las otras bailaron a los sonidos rítmicos de salsa, bachata y merengue. El punto culminante de la noche era cuando la oradora especial de la noche, France Lopez, una miembra de la Asociación de la Barra de Massachusetts, habló. Ella compartió con todos sus experiencias de ser una abogada y la importancia de ser su propia persona. Ella enfatizó el valor de hacer la cosa correcta y hacer lo que usted ama. Ella ofreció también el consejo que usted siempre debe ser capaz de reírse.

—Laura Jean Phaneuf

Carolina, Solangel, Esmely, Yoseni, Dominque y Amy gather to celebrate their diversity as women, but also to rejoice in their love of la cultura latina.

Courtney, Kim, and Shannon are the seniors members in the Dance Company. They, with others, danced to "Diamonds are a Girl's Bestfriend."

Steph and Lordes show off their Latina heritage by performing una bailada caliente!

Dra. Lucía Ortiz, Danielle, Laura Jean, y Dra. Ylce Irizarry enjoy the evening's celebración.

Solangel y Yoseni enjoy the night's homemade comida con sus amgias y familia.

Lorena, sporting the traditional Spanish dress-a Galician costume, and Dominique, sporting the sexy black dress, helped with the planning of the night's festivities.

KC and Giselle pose prettily for the camera while waiting for the delicious cena.

Filipina Bambina

Black hair
Dark eyes
Tan skin
Full lips
Pug nose
The curve of my hips
I am the little brown girl no one can classify
Half Italian
Half Filipino
Everyone thinks I'm Dominican
Everywhere I go someone tries
To guess what I am
Taunted by obsessions with appearance
By people's needs to classify
Your hair looks Asian
Your eyes look Spanish
Your nose looks Hawaiian
Your lips look African
Your butt looks...
Well, we just won't go there
But I do not fall into just one category
For I am half Italian
Half Filipino
Born and raised in America
And I am all woman.

—by Dominique Salvacion

Las mujeres bonitas de Amigas with the special guest speaker, France Lopez.

Jen and her influential women pause a minute to smile for us.

Amelia's mother thought the best part of the event was the angel pin ('cuz she's an angel).

Amy's mom loved her so much, that she drove all the way from Connecticut to be with her daughter.

Danielle and her mom discuss English Seminar books, the semester, her dear friends, and possible future plans.

Carol and Jaime, Carol's cousin, invited their aunt, Sister Barbara Loud, as their influential woman figure.

Diana and her family reflect on the importance of tradition.

Kara pins the gaurdian angel on her mom with great ease.

Julie and family gather around for an Aramark brunch.

Jo embraces her dear mother with excitement.

Suzanne and Erika share a table and the stories of the semester's events

Katie's mother made the long trek from Maine to share in her daughter's special day

Kelly and her mother enjoy the relaxing morning and take time to catch up on each other's lives.

Cari and her mom look so much like each other, you almost can't tell who's the 21-year-old college student!

Danielle, Laura Jean, KC, and Kara gather to celebrate their wonderful mothers, grandmothers and other women who have affected their lives.

No chores. No cleaning. No cooking. No spending. No worrying. No lists. No agendas. No shopping.

These were the things that were forgotten as students entered the Fine Arts Center with their mothers for the annual Mother-Daughter Luncheon. It was a time to revere the woman who brought you into the world and who acts as your muse and inspiration for life. It was also a time to delight in meeting other mothers and old friends and to make some new ones.

The day was all about the celebration of mom. At tables adorned with wine glasses and fine china, members of the Regis College community began the morning with a Mass that included a liturgical dance and followed it with a meal that featured a wide selection of food. Students communed with mothers and friends right to the end of the feast.

The luncheon ended as senior officers Laura Phanuef, Becky Brann, and Laura Brooks read a piece of prose about loving your mother. Each student stood and presented hermom with an angel pin representing the guard a mother stands over her child. The luncheon was just another time to sit back with the one who had watched you change from a little girl to a blossoming young woman.

—Amelia Aubourg

Daughters of Heaven

This past fall, the Regis College Theatre Company performed "Daughters of Heaven," a story of two young girls, Juliet Hulme and Pauline Parker, who were very close friends and who took this friendship to a level most people could never imagine.

Set in New Zealand, the story of the two girls involves murder, homosexuality, and insanity. Juliet and Pauline were different in many ways. Juliet came from a wealthy, upper-class family while Pauline's family lived from paycheck to paycheck. Juliet was confident and out-spoken, and yet vied for the attention of her elegant mother and academic father. Pauline was very shy and self-conscious, and believed her mother paid her too much attention. The friendship between these two girls was so strong that they believed nothing could separate the two of them. Because of this strong belief, they conspired to murder Pauline's mother, who seemed to be an obstacle in the path to their dreams and stardom and togetherness.

This dark, thought-provoking play was directed by Dr. Wendy Lement and performed by a cast of 12, with Catherine Kuhl playing the role of Juliet Hulme and Amanda Collins as Pauline Parker. It was presented November 14-17, 2002 in the Casey Theatre of the Fine Arts Center.

—Katie Kuhl

Catherine steals the scene with her dramatic look.

Lynne showcases her talent.

Katie and Amanda create the climate of evil on stage.

Daughters of heaven or sinners from hell? In this scene, Amanda murdered her stage mom.

Amanda and Katie's characters confessed their love for one another.

Judgement Day. Both characters are tried in court for the murder of Amanda's stage mom.

A poster shows the power of this dynamic duo's friendship.

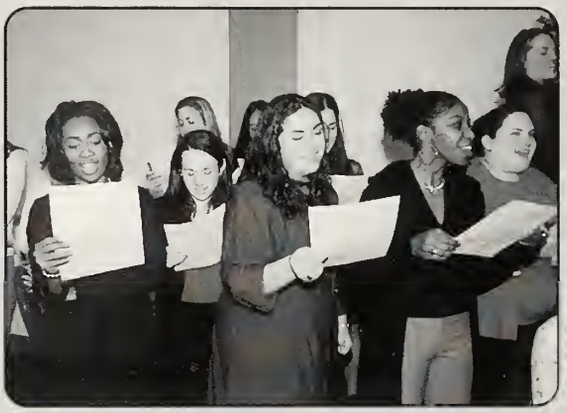
Christmas Banquet

Singing, laughing and praying are all synonymous with the Christmas Banquet. The Christmas Banquet is a celebration between faculty members, staff and students of the lighting of the campus. It is an annual event that marks the beginning of the Christmas holiday. Two weeks prior to the event, technicians and staff work to wire the campus with Christmas tree lights as well as prepare the infancy of Christ narrative in front of College Hall.

Aside from the work, students in each class come together to make up a parody Christmas song and stuff stockings with items that represent their class experience. Seniors placed resumes and old IDs as stocking stuffers and juniors made a huge flag displaying all of the countries they are from while the freshmen class placed orientation papers and college IDs inside their stockings. Members of each class sang a song and presented the Unsung Heroine Award to the woman who shows great leadership and school spirit. This year the award went to two people: Kelly Enman, senior management major, and Melanie Acuna, a junior management major. Immediately after presenting the awards, students feasted on dinner and chatted with friends.

Then they proceeded to the College Hall Foyer for a special ceremony before the lighting of the campus. An elected representative of each class said a prayer of hope and then lit a candle. The ceremony ended with the lighting of the campus. The lights illuminated the campus at night and remained up until the first week of January.

Lauren, a sophomore server, and Kelly, a 2003 Class Officer, prepare for the night's festivities



Sherline, Kathy, Jennie, Sorraia, Amy, and other members singing the Senior Class Christmas song.

The Senior Class sings a Mariah Carey song.

Melanie gives Kelly her Unsung Heroine Award.

Jess makes an emotional Unsung Heroine Award presentation for her good friend, Kara.

Sorraia, Maria, Greta, and others gather for Christmas caroling in the Foyer.

Becky lights the Advent Candle.

Mary and her roommate Kate enjoy the night by singing into their candles.

Karrie, Melissa, Makiko, and Erica singing "We wish you a Merry Chirstmas."

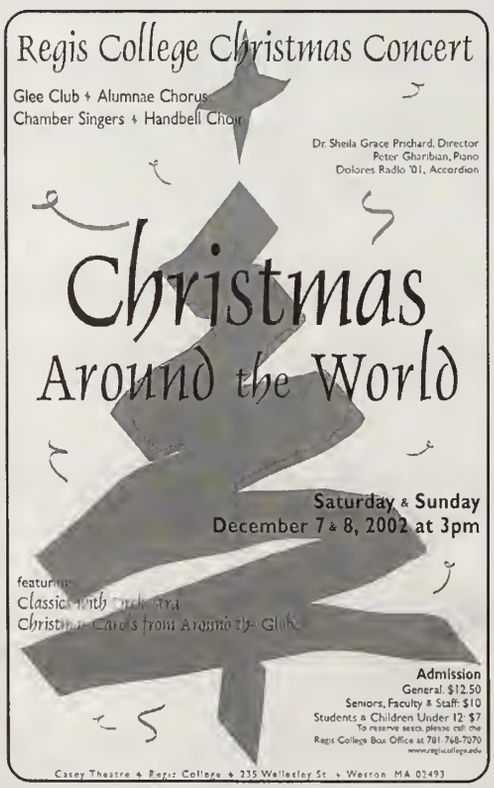
Good friends, Kara, Danielle, Laura, Steph, Erica, KC, and Amy gather for the banquet feast.

Beth, Katie, Jen, Carol, and Carolyn find that the Christmas Banquet is a time for friends as well as celebration.

The alto section of the Glee Club and Alumnae Chorus with the full orchestra adding more color to the beautiful voices.

Christina and Jennie in Chambers with their hand bells ready to chime.

The soprano section of the combined choruses of the Glee Club and Alumnae Chorus.



Regis College Christmas Concert
Glee Club + Alumnae Chorus
Chamber Singers + Handbell Choir
Dr. Sheila Grace Prichard, Director
Peter Gharibian, Piano
Dolores Radlo '01, Accordion
Christmas
Around the World
Saturday & Sunday
December 7 & 8, 2002 at 3pm featuring:
Classics with Orchestra
Christmas Carols from Around the Globe
Admission
General: $12.50
Seniors, Faculty & Staff: $10
Students & Children Under 12: $7
To reserve seats, please call the Regis College Box Office at 781-768-7070
www.regis.college.edu
Casey Theatre + Regis College + 235 Wellesley St. + Weston MA 02493

The Glee Club Christmas Concert poster designed in the Student Design Center by KC.

Jennie, at the mircophone, introducing the next Glee Club song.

As the Glee Club President, Diana introduces the Glee Club at the beginning of the Concert.

Chamber members Makiko and Niki concentrate on the hand bell song.

The Christmas Concert is one of the most celebrated traditions at Regis College because of the spirit and sense of community it brings during the holiday season. Members of the Glee Club, Chamber Singers, and Alumnae Chorus performed songs of hope and peace in the "Christmas Around the World" concert with a live orchestra. Along with the chorale singing came a rendition of songs with the use of hand bells.

The aim of the concert was to sing pieces from all parts of the world in languages such as German, English, Hebrew and Italian. Members of the different choral groups practiced for weeks honing the right sounds for the concert.

The most memorable section was the end of the show, according to junior Angela Carpinella, because it spurred much reaction from the audience. The lights are turned off as members of all the choral groups walk out. Holding candles, they proceed slowly until they are joined together. They were led by Sheila Prichard as they sang "Silent Night" first in English and then in German.

Members of the audience were encouraged to sing in accordance to the choir while little children were escorted from the audience to stand with the choir on stage. After the presentation of songs, the entire choir bowed in excitement as the crowd gave them a standing ovation.

The Glee Club, Alumnae Chorus and orchestra singing the traditional "Silent Night."

It was a night when you did not have to worry about finals, homework or a thesis statement. All you had to do was sit back and enjoy loud music, fun times, and good vibrations that filled the air at the Snow Ball. The Snow Ball, which was organized by all the resident assistants, was an affair to remember because it added to the list of priceless memories for most seniors and reminded them of the reasons why they stayed at Regis. Here are a few of the reasons why the Class of 2003 stayed:

"The people here felt like family."- Keona Martin

"There are so many great women leaders who have shown me things that I will never forget."– Erica Glennon

"I stayed because of the positive academic and social experiences I've had here at Regis." – Julie DeStefano

"I learned that I can do anything I want to do and put my mind to because I am who I am." – Rachel Nira Brackley

"I stayed because of the many friends that I have made and because I have found a place within the college. I am grateful that I have been given opportunities to grow, learn and aspire as a woman." – Danielle DiMartino

"I learned to never doubt my own abilities and not to fear the unknown." – Maria Ferri

"I came to Regis because in the eighth grade. I came here on a field trip and the driveway up was really pretty. I stayed because it is still pretty!" – Stephanie Stenmon

Carolyn, Beth, Jen, Katie, and Carol carry the Christmas Banquet celebration over to the Semiformal.

RAs Connie, Melanie, and Nikki celebrate their hard work with friends Ivelisses, Lincy, and Julie.

RAs and good friends, Rachel and Amy, take a minute to watch others having fun at the dance.

RAs Dyna, Melanie, "D-Vo" (RA at AI), and Alejandra enjoy their night.

College Hall RAs Nikki and Steph helping out at the event by taking the guests' tickets.

Shannon and her date having a great time.

Julie looking good with her uniformed date.

Kat, Diana, and Kathy clean up well - they are the beauty queens of the night!

Courtney, Ellen, Priscilla, Kaitlyn, Lynn, Caitlyn, Sarah, and Angela showing off their sexy ankles.

Party animals from the senior class are all over the place in this shot!

Satya and her roommate Maria enjoy their night with friends.

Clubs and Activities

Turn and Face Your Community...

Wilma leads the dance while holding the Dominican flag.

Sheri, Amanda and Jennifer get ready to wow people at the AHANA semi-formal.

Ming Phoung moves to the Lotus Dance during Cultural Enlightenment Show.

The ladies of AHANA give back at the Boston Food Bank showing that community service is always good for the soul.

In order to have a well-bonded community, AHANA held a sleepover in Angela Hall. Here, Sherline and Kay-Kay, and others, are having fun dancing.

Members sit back to enjoy foods from different cultures at the International Food Festival. More than 130 students attended this event.

The Lotus dance, which is an ancient Oriental dance, has become a tradition for Cultural Enlightenment.

Santa proves that it is all about multi-tasking. He is holding and giving gifts at the same time.

Michaela holds one of the children from the women's shelter. .

At AHANA's tea social, Dr. England came to enjoy the company of the students at the event.

Nirphemy, Sherline, Crystal and Tenneh represent the leadership of AHANA.

At the International Food Festival, Regis women ate and drank while celebrating their diversity.

Under the leadership of Sherline Cherry, Crystal Simmons, Nirphemy Dambreville, and Tenneh Boima, AHANA focused on community service and building diversity by hosting more events on campus. Such events included the International Food Festival, hosting a Western African and Haitian Dance Troupe, Black History Celebration and the Toy Drive.

The International Food Festival provided an opportunity to welcome people from different cultures to show off their cooking skills and share their foods with others. Countries that were represented include Haiti, Japan, Puerto Rico, Dominican Republic and China. Over 130 students came out to relish in the event.

Perhaps the most rewarding activity was the Toy Drive. In its second year, the Toy Drive funneled toys from people on campus as well as nearby schools such as Bentley, Babson and Boston College.

This year the Toy Drive gave to children from women's shelters. The children not only received gifts but the mothers did, as well. During the event, children were visited by Santa. This event was important to AHANA because it represented the community and spirit that Regis women set forth.

"It was very essential to give them a little comfort for the Christmas season," said AHANA president Sherline Chery.

The voices of Glee Club have been heard all around the world. Members of the Glee Club practice weekly and give several performances over the course of the semester. Auditions take place at the beginning of the fall during orientation.

The Glee Club, which is under the direction of Sheila Prichard, consists of women who represent the music lovers and singers of our school. They have continued traditions by singing at the Christmas Concerts and Ring Ceremonies, as well as special anniversary events.

The Glee Club is noted for hosting the Collegiate Choral Festival. Choral groups from five to seven colleges and universities are invited to perform, together with Regis and then seperately with their own conductors.

The Glee Club has provided students such as Julie DeStefano memories that will last them a lifetime. "One of my priceless moments was my first time performing on the Regis College stage with the Glee Club," said the communication and theatre major.

The Glee Club also has allowed students such as Carole Meehan to travel across the world to sing in front of people in other countries. "I will never forget singing in the Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris with members of the Glee Club," said the political science major. Members of the Glee Club will continue to spread their love of music around the globe.

Jen introduces the next ensemble.

Katie, Carole and Carolyn take a tour of the Cliffs of Mohr, Ireland.

The Glee Club performs at the Ring Ceremony for the Class of 2003.

Katie and Carolyn celebrate Halloween.

The Glee Club stands as a force to be reckoned with at St. Nicholas Collegiate Church in Galway, Ireland.

The Glee Club continues the tradition of singing "Silent Night with guests from the audience at this year's Christmas Concert.

The alto section waits for the cue while the trumpets sound their horns.

Julie, Jen and Amanda are pictured on an island off the coast of Ireland while or tour.

Rachel and Laura take a break from performing Glee Club to dance at the Semi-Formal.

Members of the Glee Club perform at Kylemore Abbey in Ireland.

The Glee Club gives an impromptu concert at a local tavern their last night in Ireland

Carolyn and Diana joke around before Christmas vacation.

KC, Valerie and Caitlin point at a poster for their concert at a hotel in Ireland.

Courtney shows off what gives her strength during a long orientation day.

Kim and Meredith lunch on ice cream and Caesar salad before getting back to the day's activities.

Kim and Courtney become friends with an incoming student.

Kim and Courtney turn their frowns upside down before going to their dorms.

Lauren and Trish get ready to play an icebreaking game.

All in together now: members join in after completing the day's events.

The senior orientation leaders group together to show their love and support to Regis.

Mary, Shannon, Katie, Sam and Kerri are waiting to take a group picture with the rest of the orientation leaders.

This group of ladies is full of life and school spirit. They are carrying on the tradition of being orientation leaders, those people who show the incoming class the ins and outs of life at Regis College.

They are always clad with some insignia or color brandishing their love for the college. Each summer they welcome the new class to college living.

Most orientation leaders are hired through a process that entails interviews about life questions and why they want to be an OL. Once hired, the OLs receive training on how to handle themselves in front of first-year students.

They practice how to act in certain situations, as well as what is expected of them during orientation weekend. This is a chance for the group to make bonds with group members and incoming students.

The ladies representing the OLs work hard to make the transition from high school to college a better one. The main objective is to allow a forum for incoming students to ask questions about the college experience and life at Regis College.

These ladies are the ambassadors of the future classes to come, continuing the legacy of the leaders to come.

Mahalia Jackson, CeCe Winans, Kirk Franklin all had one thing in common—they sang in the gospel choir. None of them had the chance to sing for the Regis College Gospel Choir, which stands close to 20 people strong.

If you are interested in singing songs of the spirit, this choir is definitely it. In order to join the choir, one has to audition a piece of music.

The choir performs at various campus events such as Sunday liturgies and individual concerts.

One of the largest events the Gospel Choir hosts is the Gospel Extravaganza. The event entails invitations to other nearby choirs. This year's extravaganza included choirs from Brandeis and the King's Kids, an international organization that brings the gospel throughout the world. During the ceremony, scriptures are read and the ceremony is led by choir director Linda San Martin Brown.

But the best part about Gospel Choir is the sense of community and spirit. "I like the feeling when you are singing your songs. We do not come from the same religion but what we have in common is the music. It's just soulful," said Keona Martin, a senior graphic design major.

Starstruck, Keona meets Shirley Caesar after the inauguration ceremony ends.

The Gospel Choir performs at its extravaganza in fall of 2002.

Dee, Nirphemy, Mye-Mye, Amanda, Sheri and Dyna practice before the concert.

Mercedes, Carolina, Nadia and Wanda pose before the Latina Celebration begins.

Lordes dances to the Latin rhythms with friends.

Mercedes and Lincy take it easy.

Ladies of Amigas, before the introduction of the speaker.

Esmely, Carolina, and Mercedes welcome the people as they arrive.

Amigas

Amigas is under the umbrella of many cultural organizations that branched off from AHANA. Amigas is the Spanish word for friends.

Amigas, which was co-founded by Carolina Rivillas and Nadia Torres, was started so that Latina women could have a voice on campus.

Among the growing list of activities this club has arranged are Tower Taverns and a pampering event that allows one to makeover a friend.

One of the chief things that Amigas does is sponsor the Latina Celebration. The celebration is full of dancing, speeches and food. It is a time where people can come and learn about the Spanish culture.

The event celebrates the proud heritage of the Regis College students who come from countries located in Central America and beyond.

This year the speaker for the event was a lawyer, France Lopez, who gave an encouraging message of having faith in yourself. She also said how vital it was to learn how to laugh at yourself every day.

The organization, which is still growing, is three years old.

The College Democrats, founded by alumna Martha Douty, is an organization in which one can learn about democracy and government in true form. Over the years, the most remarkable experience has been participating in the Gore/Lieberman rally.

When Gore and Bush chose UMass Boston as their debate site, College Democrats across the Boston area knew that it was high time to call a rally. The rally, which was organized by Harvard University, would allow students to watch from the Park Plaza Hotel and later participate in a rally where Al Gore would be.

Through the rally, Regis students had to check in and congregate in the lobby until the debate was over. Such a moment defined Greta Flaherty's experience.

"Going to the debate and getting involved with College Democrats really sparked my interest in American politics," said Flaherty, a senior political science major.

During lunch, Johanna talks on the phone to a constituent.

Carole and Greta wait for the rally to begin.

Amelia and Greta cheer and await for Al Gore to come into the hotel.

Amidst the crowd, Tipper Gore moves along to shake the hands of the young Democrats.

Lucy helps with registration for the Gore/ Lieberman rally. Wonder who she is voting for?!

Mary Caufield is reincarnated as Harry Potter for Oktoberfest.

Sink your teeth into this. Trish and Lauren are vampires during Oktoberfest 2000.

BOP and Framingham State gather with Sister Hazel to celebrate a wonderful 2001 Spring Weekend Concert.

Lead singer of Sister Hazel clings to Mary after the concert.

BOP gathers to prepare for the Haunted Tunnel and the Black Lite TT for the 2001 Oktoberfest.

Octoberfest and Spring Fling are just two of the multitude of events that are launched by The Board of Programmers (BOP).

Their primary objective as an organization is to bring performers, musicians, and speakers to educate or entertain on the Regis campus. Much of the creativity of events lies within the organization to produce these events on campus.

According to Lauren Iorio, a graphic design major, there are many reasons why people join BOP. Below are some of those reasons:

* to feel part of the community
* to bring events to campus
* to learn about the event planning
* to create bonds and friendships that will last a long time
* to plan Spring Weekend
* to make the Regis experience even better
* to attract off-campus people, especially men *to invoke more community within the campus

Another facet to BOP is to help out with Sibling Weekend and admission events. They welcome the prospective students and assist them with any questions they may have.

The TT managers are just like the bartenders on Cheers because everyone knows their name. These servers are trained to make any drink of choice and to assist in inventory.

Along with those responsibilities, they add to creating publicity for the events and help with the financial aspect of the operation.

While maintaining the operation, they attend a one-day class to learn the signals of someone who has had too much to drink and how to check IDs properly. The name of the program is the TIPS training program.

Aside from attending the program, there is a definite upside to being a TT manager. Kara Bilotta said, "The best part about being a TT manager is just sitting back and watching people from the bar."

While talking about her involvement in the TT, she named the cast and crew of her fun organization. They are:

Kaitlyn McDonough
Jess Homer
Camille Carthy
Ellen Blaney
Angela Carpinella

Danielle requests a Margarita from the bartender. However, Kara explains that the bar doesn't make mixed drinks, it just serves beer and wine coolers.

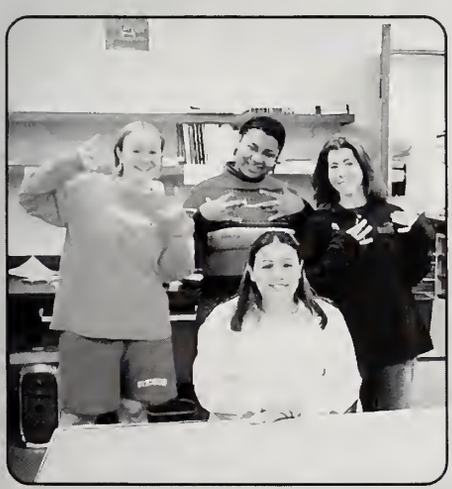
Ellen checks for a 21+ bracelet on Mary's wrist then serves her a drink.

TT Managers Kara and Kat takes this Pub night off to enjoy their senior year.

Kat checks IDs at the door; another duty of being a TT Manager.

Co-editors KC and Amelia, with Graphic Expert Katie and Business Editor Penney, take a minute out of their day to get a picture taken for their crazy yearbook.

Katie flexes her graphic strength, while Amelia's knowledge knows the yearbook will get done, and KC smiles shyly because she's overwhelmed by her friends' talents.



So the yearbook staff isn't all work... there's some horsin' around!

Bailey, the Yearbook Advisor, watches over her staff and barks orders.

Being part of the Mount Regis staff involves a lot of work, dedication and high levels of organization. Going strong, co-editors KC Salter and Amelia Aubourg planned strategically to implement a yearbook that would involve strong text and a vivid visual portrayal of what the Class of 2003 is about.

While laying out the yearbook, KC along with the help of Katie Sullivan, kept the theme of changes and butterflies consistent. Katie Blais, Melissa McGoldrick and Sarah Turi worked with Amelia on spotlights and articles about life for 2003.

Constructing a yearbook entailed business with collecting advertising from parents and businesses as well as staff at the school. Penney Dillon focused time and energy into generating ads for the yearbook.

"I wanted us to have the most money in advertisements ever. By sending them out early, I think it helped to gain more momentum than in past years," said Dillon, a management major. Working with her were senior Amy Leavitt in charge of parent ads and junior Jodia Nesbeth, who helped with the marketing of the book.

Other people who helped with the yearbook were Lauren Iorio, Trish Roberts, Laura Phanuef and, of course, our advisor, Bailey!

Kim, Courtney and Shannon are the Dance Company's seniors, as well as the co-directors of the company.

Dance Company performance March 2000, featuring Class of 2003 members such as Stephanie, Kim, Julie, and Janet.

Courtney, Kate, Kim, Trina, Kerri, Priscilla, Amanda and Shannon are the leading talents for creativity in this year's Dance Company.

A jazz routine to a Gloria Estefan song, featuring fellow Class of 2003 members Julie and Steph!

Amanda, Kim, Kate, Priscilla, Trina, Kerri, Courtney and Shannon are a true balancing act in their pyramid position.

Dance Company

It's the twinkle toes of the Dance Company: Kim, Kate, Courtney, Kerri, Shannon, Trina, Priscilla, and Amanda.

If you love to move, tap, ballet, classical or modern dance, maybe the Regis College Dance Company is the activity of choice.

The Dance Company, which is under the direction of Courtney LeBlanc, Kim Curtis and Shannon Harris, has dazzled members of the Regis College community with an abundant repertoire of numbers that have highlighted their jazz, classical and modern talents.

It was founded for students and by students who later enacted a dance minor program that educates students about dance history and technique. The program is still going strong.

A jazz class practice featuring seniors such as Courtney, Kim, Shannon, and Steph.

The company's main focus is the Dance Company show that takes place every year. The show is tailored around a theme which highlights both song and dance. The company practices every week honing its skills to present them at the show in every section of dance.

This year's show is called "A Night of Phenomenal Women." Space, time, energy, manipulation of a phrase and the power of a group will be explored through various styles from lyrical to jazz to tap.

In addition to performing at the show, the company has performed at various events both on and off campus. They also danced for the President's inauguration ceremony in front of Sister Zita Fleming, Shirley Caesar and Former First Lady Rosalynn Carter.

Kate, Amanda, Priscilla, Trina, Kerri, Courtney, Kim, and Shannon perform "Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend" at the Latina Celebration.

Other Clubs

AAA
CVSA
Campus Ministry
Chamber Choir
SGA
SAAC
Tower Society
WRGS

2 24 '01
TELEPHONE
430
REGIS
SOFTBALL

MOHR & MCPHERSON
Gore
Liebe an FREEDOM PEACE
LOVE
LOVE

Athletic Teams

Turn and Face the Pride...

You may not see a winning record or list of conference awards beside the Regis College Soccer team's photo, but if you attended even one game or practice you would have noticed fourteen faces that illustrate PRIDE. The Regis Soccer team worked from the beginning to end, both on and off the field, with undefeated spirit. The Regis Pride is a team made up of talented individuals and strong-willed athletes. Each player committed herself to the team and never gave up. By the end of the season the final record would not list a large number of wins, but this team walked off the field after each and every game with heads held high. Regis Soccer fought every minute of the game knowing that the scoreboard did not matter and that, in the end, as long as they played hard together in unity, they will have won the battle.

The 2002 Soccer squad will long be remembered as a strong spirited group led by a core group of five seniors. Samantha Nay, Michelle Pereira, Eileen Thompson, Katie Sullivan, and Michaela Ellis left their blood, sweat, and tears on the soccer pitch this past fall and for three seasons before, and their will to fight will not be forgotten.

Juniors Julie Eche and Trina Hill, sophomores Amanda Valcarcel, Eileen Leahy, Kellie Marren, Evan Rufo, and Lauren Pullia, along with an extensive group of first-year athletes, have already begun working for next August, and the future of Regis Soccer shines brighter than ever.

Leaders of the new school: soccer team

Eileen stepped up to support her team in a defensive play.

In action: Sam worked the field with her moves.

Game face: Coach Mark Clemente talked to his team over a timeout.

Game time: Katie stretched on the sidelines as she prepared to go back in for more.

Eileen looked for a way to get a goal.

Field Hockey

Team pride: Field Hockey team photo

Judy gears up to make another play.

On the prowl: Becky guards against her post.

On the flip side: Maureen sits down before gametime.

Becky, Maureen and Sharyl shield the post from the opposition.

Attentive: Sharyl listens for the signal for the next play.

When looking back as a field hockey team, we had a journey before us to develop our physical skills as well as our depth. As we began our season, our common slogan throughout games "Tewks Flap Together!" kept us together. We started off the season slowly, but ended with a bang!

The best things about this team is sportsmanship that is displayed from game to game. The team showed heart and dedication on and off the field.

Along with that was the improvement of communication on the field. Being able to be successful in coordinating a play or making a move was an important tactic.

We hope that our end of the season winning streak, which included a huge win against long-time rival Salve Regina, will carry over to next season.

A noticeable event in our season was the onset of campus support at the meets. Having that respect helped us strived to win more teams. Pride fans can "expect the extraordinary" from the field hockey program.

Cait Connolly and Isabel Hall were named All-Conference and Judy Solar led the team in scoring.

In spite of the ups and downs of the season we still triumphed as a team and ended with strong numbers.

According to senior Beck Brann, " Just remember girls, it's all about the journey."

Cross Country

Sinead Delahunty-Evans was the strong head coach of the Cross-Country team. Sinead is an amazing runner who has competed in the Olympics for Ireland twice and plans to compete once more. She was able to bring much knowledge and enthusiasm to the team this year, her first coaching Cross-Country at Regis.

Although our team was few in numbers, we were strong and dedicated. The team included Elizabeth Cuff (senior), Nadia Torres (senior), Scarlett Leta (junior), and Kim Pham (sophomore). In a cross-country meet, you need five people to be considered a team and to score in competitions; with only four people on the team we were unable to score as a team this season. Regardless, we made it to every meet and we ran our hardest and worked on improving individually.

Liz and Scarlett were able to improve their times by two minutes each, while Nadia and Kim worked on their strength and endurance. Sinead taught us new skills and techniques, and coached us to build up our muscles and to improve our speed. Each member of the team brought a different quality with her; our diversity made us a unique team. Overall, our season was successful. In the beginning it was frustrating not having enough runners, but as the season went on, we realized that we did not need the numbers, all we needed was each other. We realized that four dedicated runners were better than a large team that would not be as dedicated. Our championship meet was at Roger Williams where we competed in a 6K race, which was a little longer than our usual 5K races. The race, like the season, went well and we finished strong.

—Liz Cuff

Running with pride: The Regis Cross-Country Team.

Liz warms up for a meet.

Kim races the opponent and finishes strong.

Rock steady: As the other teams set their watches, the team gets ready to race.

Scarlett reflects before the announcer tells them to begin.

Nadia goes the distance for her time as she completes her race.

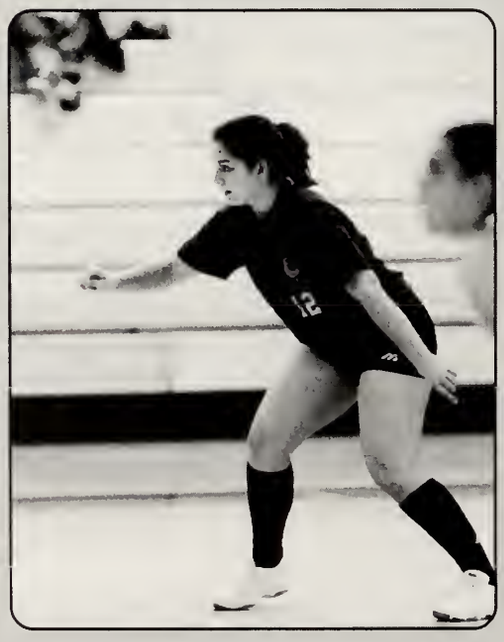
Scarlett pushes herself to go the extra mile for her team.

How did you run the race? With teamwork. Shown are Scarlett, Kim, Liz, and Nadia.

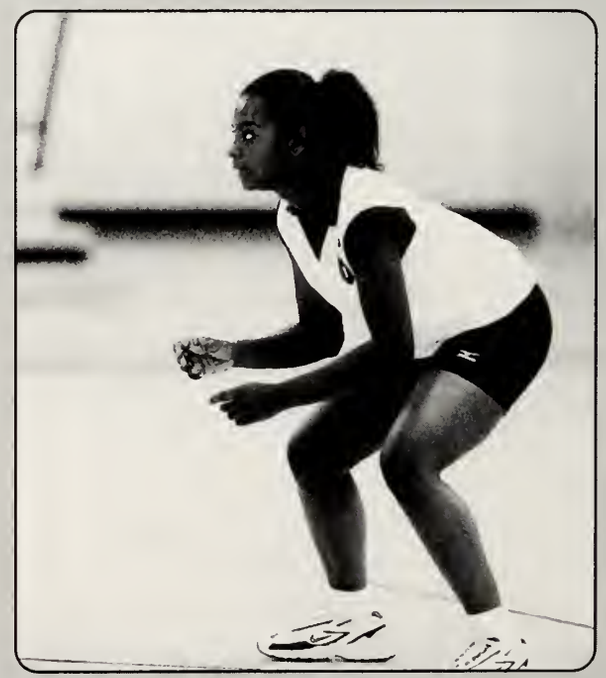
Volleyball

Team Pride: Volleyball Team Photo

Caitlin in midair will begin the match.



Kim is ready to serve the ball and attack.



Lincy, after the first play, stays low and is ready to return the serve.

Before the game starts, the team gains its strength and sense of purpose on the court.

Mary and Steph pose before hitting the court with pride and agility.

Caitlin, what do you mean we can't win? I say we sure can.

Tied game: Observers watch the game while players get ready go in.

Playing with no seniors on the squad, the Regis College volleyball team displayed understandable growing pains but still managed to qualify for the Commonwealth Coast Conference Tournament.

The Pride spiked league victories over Salve Regina University and Anna Maria College during the regular season to earn the eighth-seeded position for the tourney.

It took three games before regular-season champion Gordon College eliminated Regis from CCC tourney play.

With the entire roster returning for next fall, the future of Regis College volleyball looks bright.

Tennis

When I look back on my four years of college, there are many people who stand out but there is one group, one team that made my experience at college wonderful—the Regis College Tennis Team.

It is amazing how tight we got but, then again, it was practice every day, games that we traveled to together and dinner that we shared most nights.

The 1999 team was wonderful; it was like we were part of a family for that one season. Roberta Daniele is the tennis coach and cheerleader. To see this wonderful woman who was both coach and cheerleader, to see her shaking her fist in the air after a player won a point was a great sight that brought along laughter and pride.

Fellow sophomore Jenn Reese led the 2000 team; she paced the team to victory many times.

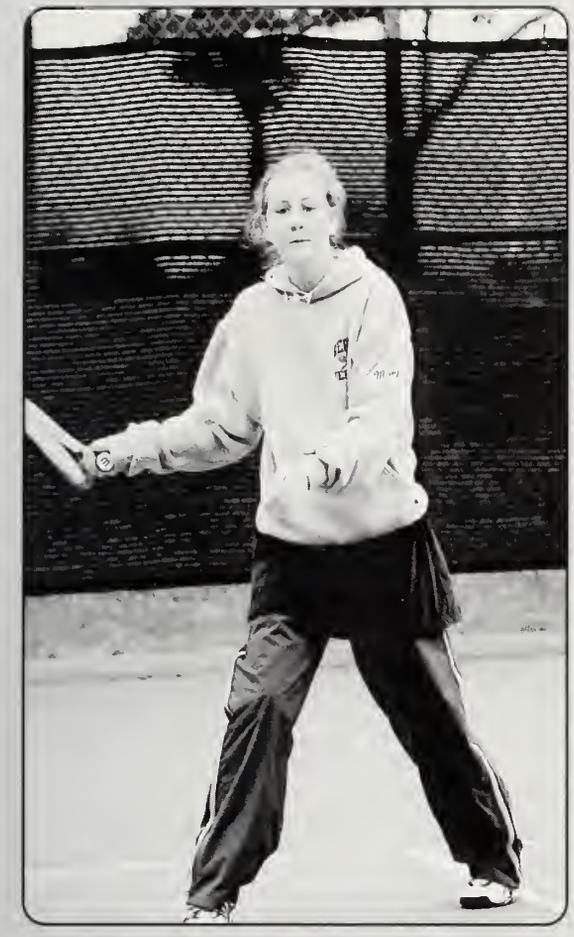
I am happy that I have been able to meet such remarkable women and have had the honor of playing on a team with them. I wish all of them the best as they pursue their dreams.

— Greta Flaherty

With seniors such as Mary Kate and Erica, the tennis team represents Lady Pride like no other!

Steph shows good form with her return.

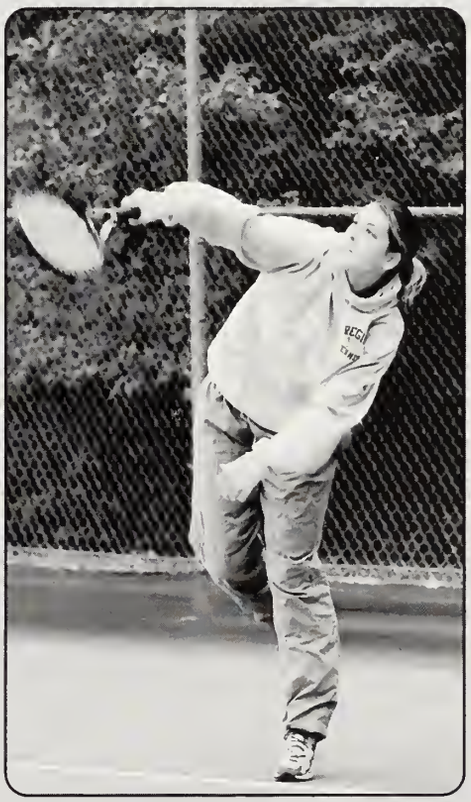
Erica carries her gear after a well-played match.



Mary Kate warms up before a match by practicing her volley.

Mary Kate, Greta, and Nicole drop their tennis rackets for golf clubs during a team bonding trip to the local miniature golf course.

Caitlin helps Greta practice by challenging her to a match.



Bobbi shows good form on her serve.

Rosemary, Corissa, Erin, Jen, Julie, Kat, Alex, Satya, Maria, and Rebecca do a little crew-shimmy while at a race.

Maria, Jessica, Chrissy, and Kara enjoy crew for more than one reason; this time, it's because they went to Miami for Spring Break!

Maria, after a race, is clearly hot!

Rebecca, Jen, Satya, Erin, and Maria work hard and as a team.

Crew/Rowing

Maria, Kat, Sam, Alex, and Kara show us what being a team is all about!

Satya has so much energy after a race that she gives Kat a ride on her back.

Maria, Jen, Sam, and Satya prepare for a race early in the morning.

Jen, Satya, Amanda, Sam and Kara get up before the sun rises in the morning to practice for a race.

The crew team has endured many hurdles in its athletic history. Having to take a break to find a coach, the sport was at a standstill half of senior year.

With those hurdles came victories. Being asked to participate in the Charles River Regatta, a race meeting of the crew masters of the world, and being mentioned in the New York Times, is captivating in itself.

In spite of the ups and downs, members of the crew team endure a rigorous schedule of running and rowing exercises. The toughest test of endurance comes when waking up at five in the morning to cold water and lack of sleep.

But that which does not kill us makes us stronger as an anonymous quote teaches us. Through all of the training, the team has progressed in its depth and unity.

Maria Ferri recounts the first moment of crew as if it were yesterday. "My priceless moment would have to be the therapeutic warmth of sunrise over Harvard Bridge thawing your frozen fingers as you and your team hit the perfect rhythm and the world simplifies down to a boat and a river," said Ferri.

As Satya Som echoed, "I wish I could have videotaped the mornings when my teammates and I rowed in the rain and snow while enduring blisters upon blisters, but coming out of the water still willing to go through it again with nothing more than a sigh."

Swimming & Diving

We had a fabulous season! Sweeping our first meet against St. Joseph's and Wheelock , we started off with a double win. With a record of 2-3 we concluded our first semester. In December, five swimmers braved the elements of a nine-and-a-half-hour van excursion down to the Garden State of New Jersey to compete in the E.C.A.C Championships. Despite the arctic water temperatures, the ladies excelled, giving off some "outside heat!" The team returned on New Year's day to get an early jump on training. Flying down to the Sunshine State, we practiced in the University of Miami's outdoor training facilities. Despite glaring sun and multiple hospital trips, we all came back alive...barely. We plunged into our second semester against Mt. Holyoke, where many personal bests and qualifying times were met, and ended the season on a high note against Salem State, with the Pride attacking every event and coming out victorious. We had a 6-9 final record, which doubled last year's wins. Pouncing into the New England Championships, "Bigger and Better than Ever!", we took 11 talented swimmers over to Bentley and finished 12th out of 19 teams. Many all-time best times where met. Senior Shannon Callahan-Higgins placed 2nd in the 100 breaststroke, breaking the school record with a time of 1:10.10 and 3rd in the 50 breaststroke and 200 breaststroke. Erica Haas, also a senior, placed 6th in the 50 Backstroke and 18th in the 100 IM. Regis relays also placed well with a 5th place finish in the 200 Medley Relay. The Pride had a great meet. We will miss the hard working and dedicated seniors who are graduating in May: Shannon Callahan-Higgins and Amanda Mogan (two of our captains), Erica Haas, diver Sarah Lombardo and our two rookies, Sharyl Geary and Holly Temme. Let us not forget our fabulous manager, Becky Brann.

The seniors of swimming and diving received recognition for their participation: Swimmers Sheryl and Shannon, Manager Becky, Swimmer Erica, Diver Sarah, and Swimmers Amanda and Holly.

Shannon and Becky show off their flowers and towel before the meet begins.

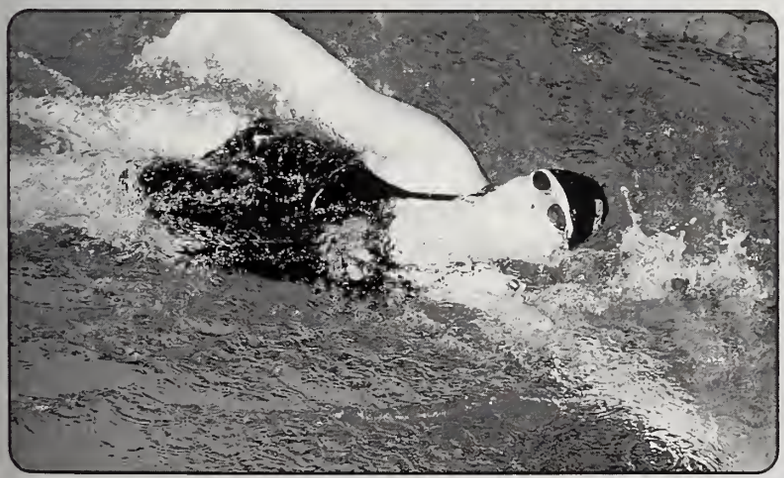
Sarah takes Izzy and Kimberly aside to wish the underclass women luck before their race.

The swimming and diving team gathers to congratulate each other on a well-fought meet. This being the last home meet for the seniors, it is an emotional moment.

Liz is swimming the butterfly stroke for her race.

Kimberly practices her dive.

Shannon and Erica cheer on Colleen.

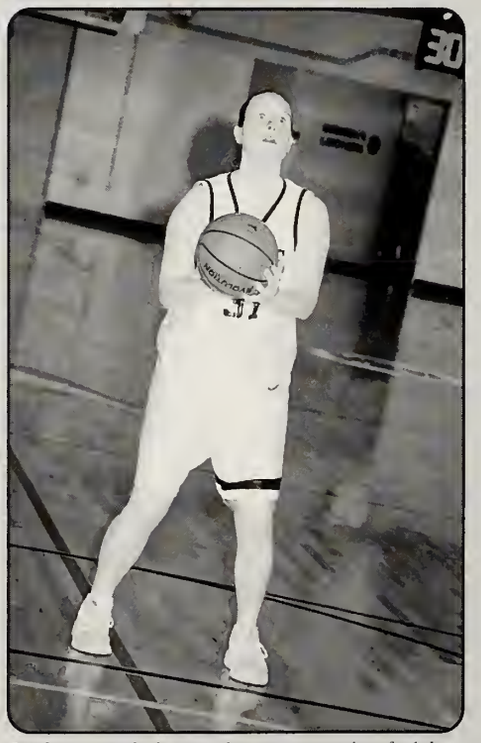


Amanda hustles with her crawl stroke, hoping to earn some points for Team Regis!

Coach Kelly and Sarah share helpful tips to fellow team members Izzy and Liz.

Coach Staffiere gives the team pointers on how to make their game better. Karrie adds her thoughts as well.

Erin dodges the other team and sets up for a shot.



Cait focuses on the hoop as she prepares to take a foul shot.

Nicole looks to see who is open so she can make a pass.

Cait demands close defensive attention.

Coach Staffiere gives Team Regis the strategy for the next play.

Cait does a shimmy in order to avoid a foul called on her.

Love, determination and desire are all reasons to join the Regis College basketball team. Others include a couple of these facts:

*The Regis College basketball team is a group of local young and upcoming all-stars. Members of the 2002-2003 team included: Team Captain Karrie Barber from Manchester, NH, Forward Cait Connolly from Manchester, NH,Guard Melissa Gonzalez from Lawrence, MA, Guard Nicole Messuri from Arlington, MA, Guard Megan Powell from Holyoke, MA, Guard Erin Campbell from Wellesley, MA, Forward/Center Danielle Doherty from Somerville, MA, Guard Colleen Hill from Malden, MA, Guard/Forward Caitlin Clark from Dudley, MA, Forward/ Center Charlotte Southern from Braintree, MA

* Coaches Tony Staffiere, Sharon Hale and Helen Dinan, trainer Devin Cashman, and managers Christine Aprea and Catherine Onasanya

* Friendships that will last a lifetime and helpful life lessons

The season proved to be a successful one as the team started it with a bang. They marked the beginning of their season with victory defeating Commonwealth Coast Conference rival Eastern Nazarene College. "Everyone contributed to the effort," commented new coach Tony Staffiere. The team, which was led by senior Karrie Barber, spent the season building depth, strength and stamina. Another win came against Wentworth Institute in a Commonwealth Coast Conference contest. The season ended with the team going head-to-head with Gordon College in a game that was held the day after the 27-inch blizzard of 2003.

In addition to that, the season proved to be one that was bittersweet for some of the players. The team had to deal with the pre-season resignation of Wendy Rogers, basketball coach for two years.

Regis
Regis
Regis
SOFTBA
PADDLES
HELMETS

Class of 2003

Turn and Face Your Class...

Laura Jean, Laura, Lynn, Becky, and Kelly rejoice after a wonderful Cap and Gown Ceremony.

Courtney smiles as Lynn gives her a well-deserved Certificate of Leadership.

Katie, Diana, and Lynn admire Carolyn's beautiful class ring.

Lynn presents Dyna with her Leadership certificate.

Lynn poses with Katie, Diana, and Carolyn in their joyous celebration of Ring Ceremony.

Thank You, Lynn Coleman

Lynn congratulates Kara on a year of leadership

Sheri accepting a Leadership certificate from Lynn.

Lynn give Sam words of wisdom as she turns her class ring for the first time.

Lynn Tripp Coleman has been an influence to all of us over our four years here.

She first welcomed us at Orientation and continued throughout our first year to introduce us to the Regis way of life. We all have been touched by the presence she exudes when she is around. Lynn, as she likes us to call her, has created an environment that has guided us through our time at Regis. She learns our names and cares about what we want to do here.

I have come to know Lynn as a student, as a mentor and also a friend. I can remember back to my first training session of Orientation, the end of my first year at Regis, when she entered the room and gave her introduction. She said "Please don't call me Ms. Coleman or Miss Lynn, just call me Lynn." Miss Lynn, I thought to myself, who would ever say that? Maybe that's why she is just Lynn to all of us.

Thank you, Lynn, for all you have done for Regis College, and especially for your help and love for the Class of 2003!

~ Kelly Enman

Thank You

Favorite Spots

Amidst the course load of work and activities, many of the class members bonded through the events that happened both on and off campus. Some of these trips included going to movies, checking out the view in Ireland, hanging at the beach, riding horses in Aruba and just taking time to know the person who lives across from you.

Many of the favorites spots at school stemmed from many different sources. For Lillian Goncalves and Lynne DeSisto, their favorite spot was the Fine Arts Center because they loved acting and the stage.

Other spots included College Hall steps because of the atmosphere and the tunnel for quickness between buildings.

For warm weather, other people chose the lawn in front of Morrison House to view the blue summer skies. "On warm sunny days, the lawn in front of Morrison is the refuge from the sleep-inducing dormitory," said Satya Som.

Meanwhile, most members of the class liked going off campus because they wanted to meet different people or see new sights and countries, in some instances. Other people found campus places they made their favorite because of friends.

"My favorite hangout is the place where my friends are: anywhere where we can be together," said Lauren Iorio.

Amanda and Satya thuggin it on their way to Boston.

Ratha and Sorraia model as they hang out in the sun.

Fiona, Kat, Jen, Genevieve, Jen, Lindsay, Laura, and Steph enjoy Sully from Monsters, Inc., after the movie.

Trish, Katie, Steph and Lauren trek the town of Salem on Halloween.

Jen enjoys the view of the ocean during her trip to Ireland.

Kat, Yulia, Carrieanne, Beth, Caitlin, Fiona, Jen, and Ophilia wait for the shuttle to arrive at Riverside Station.

Kim shows off her hula hoop skills.

Dyna and Sherie take in some shade amidst the heatwave.

Amy, Andrea and Julie take some time to get to know the natives on the Cape.

Greta rides the wild horse Thunder in sunny Aruba.

Students wait to leave for their Six Flags New England trip.

Francesca, Albertina and Sorraia talk about school in front of the library.

Kara, Katie, Laura, KC and Danielle take a break from the hoop-rolling race.

Happy Birthday to Lyia who celebrated her 21st birthday. Now make a wish.

Kelly, Jessica, Sarah, Genevieve, Jillian, and Christine dance the night away at the ball.

Jennifer, Maria, Neicy, and Abby chow down on Giovanni's pizza.

Maria, Satya, Masumi, KC and Kuniko partake of Japanese cuisine - Sushi anyone?!

Sherie cuts the cake as she is still shocked by the surprise 21st birthday party.

Trish's 21st—Steph, Amy, Katie, Jenn, Lauren and Trish celebrate at Pizzeria Uno.

Erica, Shannon, Becky, Sharyl, Melissa, Janet, Erin, Sam, Mary and Katie live it up at a nearby bar.

Charlie's Angels beware: Wilma, Sug
Abby prepare to go dancing with frie

Caitlin demonstrates her dancing skills on top of a table for the people at Chili's.

Katie and Kelly hang out at a Tufts University mixer with some friends.

A drink at McCarthy's: $7.50
A black cowl neck sweater from Express: $39
A full tank of gas: $15
Dinner and a movie: $30
Dancing the night away with friends: Priceless.

After a long week of classes, there is an ugly question lurking in the shadows. What are you doing this weekend?

The answers were very diverse. For Lyia Kledong and Sherie Thorpe, it meant celebrating twenty-one years of life with friends and family. For others, it meant going off campus into Boston to bar, restaurant or club venues.

Some of these hotspots included Avalon, Axis, Sugar Shack, McCarthy's, the Kells, the Wave and Pravda 116, while others included college campuses such as Bentley, Babson, Tufts and Boston College, just to name the favorites.

Perhaps the most important thing about going out at night was the immeasurable fun had with friends and the morning-after breakfast to discuss the night before.

Shannon, Kelly, Carolina and Melissa put a new spin on their card game.

Jennifer, Maria and Neicy are outside the club waiting to dance.

Good vibrations abound as they rock out for Oktoberfest 1999.

Erica and Bobbie enjoy themselves at a barbecue.

KC, Trish and Katie wait to be served at a restaurant.

Ladies' Night

There is a true process to attending a ball or a semi-formal that almost lends itself to being an art. Much of the class shown in these photos took long hours to get ready to look beautiful and stylish.

It begins with the search for a dress. Most formal dresses are found at Filene's, Macy's or David's Bridals. The most popular formal colors tend to be black, red and anything with pretty sparkle. Some people have gone to Neiman Marcus to find elegant dresses. The dresses ranged from $70 to $250.

Once the dress is found, hair and makeup follow. A good wash and set with the usual updo will range between $30-$40. To minimize this costly expenditure, one usually will have a trustworthy friend do it for them.

Once hair is settled, makeup follows. Makeup is important because it defines the elegance with which one is carrying themselves for the evening. It is a choice of heavy over light or feminine versus temptress. The mood of the makeup will depend on the dress and the overall impression you will want to make that night.

After the quintessential things are done, these ladies look at the minor details; the accessories like shoes, bags and manicures. A good manicure will cost no more than $15. Such things are important for pulling the outfit together.

Essentially, the time spent with friends and boyfriends are central but looking good comes in a close second.

Mary and Sharyl wait in the ladies room before going back to the ball.

Erin, Rebecca, Erin and Susannah hang out in the Carney Gallery at the Christmas Dance.

Dyna, Jen, _____, and Nikki enjoy the festivities at the Christmas Semiformal.

Jen, Diana, Laura, Carolyn, Meghan, Beth, Fiona, Julie, Kat, Katie and Erin show off their semiformal gowns.

Sarah, Maria, Fiona, Diana, and Caitlin take a break from the dance floor.

Michaela, Danielle and Sherline work it at the Semiformal Dance.

Masumi, Sarah and Lucy get ready to go to the ball.

KC and Satya are Xtreme for a semiformal event.

Becky, Laura, Bobbie and Danielle stop quickly to pose before hitting the dance floor.

Mary, Sonia, Jamie, Kristin, Julie, Jen, Sam and Sharyl crowd the dance floor.

Kelly, Lauren and Trish are ready to rock and roll with style.

Sarah and Kathy stop and take a breath from the Semiformal dance floor.

Melissa, Sam, Katie, Kristin, Eileen, Mary, Shannon, Liz, Becky, Gen and Janet anxiously wait at Logan Airport to begin their study abroad experience in London.

Eileen and Maria convince the serious guard to take a second and show some English hospitality.

Janet, Maria and Mary are pony trekking in Wales during a weekend trip.

Janet, Maria, Mary, Melissa and Eileen take part in the cultural ritual of hanging out at a pub in Wales.

Jillian and Susannah were roommates for three years straight. Here they enjoy the memories in Florence, Italy.

Jillian and Genevieve sit back and discuss their experience in London at a nearby pub.

Study Abroad

While in Rome (and Venice), you must do as the Romans do. Janet and Mary pause for reflection on a Venetian bridge.

Genevieve and Sarah catch some good vibrations from the Heidelburg Castle in Germany.

After some fine dining, Katie, Shannon, Gen, and Jillian head over into the city to take in some London theatre.

Eileen, Genevieve, Katie, Melissa, Mary and Shannon paint the town red in London.

Sherline is on top of the world in Florence, Italy.

Study Abroad 2002

It was the best of times when members of the senior class got the opportunity of a lifetime to study abroad in London, England, at Regents College. While living there, students were able to experience what life was like in London as well as what the night life was like in London.

Aside from studying and living la vida loca, many took the weekend as a moment to explore the world in other countries such as Wales, Italy and Germany. From sightseeing to reflecting, members were able to see the world in a new light.

While in these foreign places, feelings of homesickness and apprehension reared. After those initial emotions, many members got through the time there with their old friends while making new ones in the process. Below are some thoughts about the trip:

Jillian Balser: "I would never have had so many laughs without Susannah Smith and Sarah Duevel. Susannah is unique and makes the world a better place just for showing up. Sarah is strong, brave and independent while at the same time soft, sincere and affectionate. She questions reality every step of the way."

Maria Ferri: "The experience is one that I will never forget. I will always have London and Wales within my reach. I learned a lot about myself during that trip and about the greatness of friendship."

Katie Blais: "Studying abroad in London allowed me to see things that are outside my environment. To meet so many people from different cultures and norms and enrich myself in their culture was the best part of the experience. I found out so much about London that I am planning to go back soon to learn even more. I would highly recommend it to everyone."

Say What?

Throughtout the years, life at Regis has lent itself to some wild and crazy moments. The type of person you are directs how you deal with these moments.

Some people deal by partying on the weekends. Some go off campus to relax and get away. Others just go home and shut the door behind them to get away from it all.

But there are the few that cross the road to exit at near insanity. This section is dedicated to those people.

What is presented on this two-page spread are the minutes where we just did not care. These times involved late nights and weird idiosyncracies that would allow one to exclaim "Say what?"

This section could not be possible unless these flashes in time did not happen without the kindness and lunacy of another party: our friends. Such friends either cheered us on or joined in the action.

These times added to the Regis College experience but brought the editors to ask many unanswered questions. Although people do this, a question was posed as to the reasons why they do this.

Maria Home, a senior communications major and a representative of the "Say What" crew, articulated the overall sentiment of the group. "I wish I could understand why some people make life so intricate and hard at Regis [College]. Life is fun, why not live it up?"

Sherline takes it to the next level in her laundry machine spin style.

Surprise, you're on candid camera!

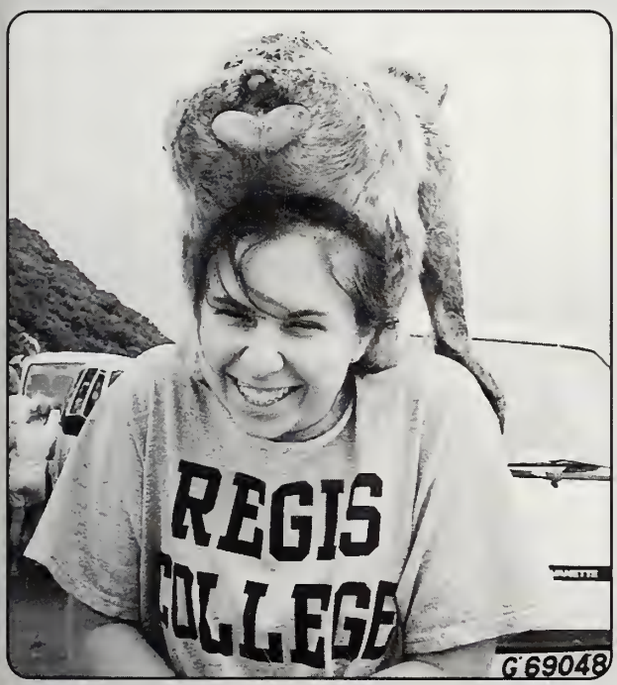
It's the missing member of Jem and the Holograms.

Grrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrr!

What's wrong with this picture???

Babhye! Get in my bellhye!

Does anybody know how to work this thing?



Sweet, sweet monkey love!

Hot cross buns.

It's the charmin' princess!

Have a humping holiday!

Jen and Jen ditch 'Kat' for a puppy on the Glee Club Trip to Ireland.

Roommates Heather and Julie in Charles River Park in Cambridge during the Breast Cancer Walk.

After getting off work at Regis, Katie and Kara let the good times roll as Katie celebrates her 21st birthday.

When Satya became a resident her sophomore year, Maria was the only roommate in mind.

Karrie and Shannon have a "Say What!" moment for the camera.

During a summer vacation trip to Maine, Lauren and Trish stop to try on goofy animal hats.

Roommates

Sharyl, Mary and Sam take a break from homework to relax.

Danielle and Michaela get ready for a night full of fun and unexpected adventure.

On your mark, get set, go! Amy and Danielle race on their scooters down the College Hall hallway.

KC and Kuniko show their love for New York after spending the weekend there.

During a birthday party celebration, Laura gives Liz a piggy back ride.

Who can make us laugh and cry and happy and sad all in the same room? The answer is the roommate. Aside from the parties, homework and adventure of growing as a person, no college experience is ever complete without the roommate.

Here are the top ten reasons that roommates rule at Regis :

10. They make great travel companions.
- I will never forget my very first spring break trip that I took with one of my best friends—Michaela. We experienced a week of unforgetable memories that will last a lifetime! - Danielle DiMartino

9. They create a cool hangout environment.
- One of my favorite hangouts on campus junior year was my room! - Maria Home

8. You learn about different cultures.
I learned about different foods and languages from my Japanese roommate.- KC Salter

7. They are free therapy.
Having my roommate to talk to my first year here was great. -Angela Briana Blair

6. They make good chefs.

5. They become like family away from home.

4. They become sources of inspiration.
-I admire so many people but one of the many on my list is Maria Ferri for being cool and calm. - Satya Som

3. They provide comedic relief.
-My priceless moment has to be when I was singing karaoke with the girls even though some of them would not go up on stage. - Stephanie Stenmon.

2. They add to the memorable experience of being at Regis College.

1. They make the best friends.
I developed friendships with the girls on my floor, in my hall and in my classes. - Kelly Enman

At Row's End

Kay L. Harrington, Heritage Scholar

What does a love for learning, a deceased mother's admonition, and a 95-year old Sister of St. Joseph have to do with my being a Regis College Heritage Scholar and an English major? Everything!

Long before I knew there was a Regis College, and long before the state of Massachusetts conjured nothing more for me than shadowy images of Plymouth Rock and Thanksgiving, I called the vernal hills of Missouri home. Our family carved out a Spartan existence among Swedish relatives in a predominately German town with a population of 500. Impacted by persevering immigrants, I came away from my childhood with three positive tools for life: I learned the value of finishing what I start in a vegetable garden, developed a fondness for reading, and retained a love for music having studied violin, piano, and voice.

My mother's "hoe to the end of the row" policy originated in childhood and continues to challenge me. My siblings and I were each given charge over a row in our large vegetable garden, and we could not play on Saturday mornings until we hoed to the end of our rows. Also, it was then that I gravitated toward classical music and grew to love books and poetry, discovering a host of great adventures through the magic of reading. Although we grew up without an automobile, I considered myself a world traveler, for all it took was a good book to lift me up and out of dire circumstances and plop me down onto a sunny, sandy beach with Robinson Crusoe, for example.

My college odyssey began in 1971 in a Protestant theological college and will end, ironically and hopefully in 2003, in a Catholic women's college. During the thirty years between then and now, I have plunged down the slopes with an avalanche of challenges and soared with the joy of children and grandchildren. I dropped out of college in the '70s when my son was born with birth defects and returned to part-time college in the early '80s to gain perspective on diagnoses of multiple sclerosis. My employment history has been college-based, and, consequently, I became a Regis employee in 1995. It was then that I met Sister John Sullivan. Sr. John worked in our department, and we became fast friends through our mutual love for poetry and literature. Appalled at my belief that I was too old to finish college, Sister John eventually convinced me that learning is for a lifetime, that there is no end to the learning process.

Kay working diligently at the Heritage Scholar Center

From my experience, the two best qualities about Regis College are also the two best qualities about being a Heritage Scholar. It is here that the efforts of the Sisters of Saint Joseph are realized for the Heritage Scholar woman as well as for Regis women of all ages. Our opportunity to learn and grow is made possible by an excellent and dedicated faculty and through a kindred spirit that springs from a family-like atmosphere.

As a child I watched my mother embroider an elaborate sampler. She chose her threads carefully, perhaps sensing that my route to education would not only be nontraditional but would include a long, difficult labyrinth of remarkable colors and choices, as well. That sampler hangs on my wall today, and its framed directive motivates me still. It reads: No minutes surely bring us more content, than those in pleasing useful studies spent. No art without a genius will prevail and parts without the help of art will fail. But where both these ingredients jointly meet, they make the happy character complete.

My mother's voice echoes from her grave today. "Finish school; hoe to the end of the row!" She dared me to dream at that place and time where dreams were seldom realized, for few women hoped for an education then. She gave me the tools of achievement and the wings of feasibility. Regis College kindly offered opportunity, and Sr. John Sullivan gave me the courage to fly with her gentle nudge, "yes, you can do it!" Today I am infinitely thankful for opportunities.

Melinda and Aida enjoy a good book.

Deborah, Aida and Ruth share the excitement of Cap and Gown

Karen, Laurie, Melinda and Maggie enjoy the holiday festivities.

Linda and Jennifer smile at the end of another semester.

Linda and Dr. Anderson enjoy a friendly chat.

Brass
J&ANS
ER

Advertisements

Turn and Face the World...

Jen, you are special!
You are our Super Pest! God is very pleased with you and
He Loves you very much and we do too!
Look what you've accomplished, and all with a little help from your friends.
You did your best and WOW! You're a Teacher!

Look at you.
Congratulations, Jen.

Love, Hugs, Kisses
Mom, Dad, Angie, Mem, Pep, Uncle Donald,
Aunty Janet and All Your Family

Nadia you are our most precious Joy and Gift that a parent is very proud of. We wish you the very best as you will now cross over to your new accomplishments and challenges. We will always be there for you and all of us Love you very much. Just continue to reach for your STAR which you have always shown us that you are one that can accomplish any thing that your heart desires. We love you very much and may God Bless you and alway keep you safe and healthy.

Love, Mom & Dad
Luz-Dary, Gabriel and Alan

ALWAYS by Irving Berlin

I'll be loving you - Always
With a love that's true - Alway.
When the things you've planned
Need a helping hand
I will understand - Always, always.
Days may not be fair - Always,
That's when I'll be there - Always.
Not for just an hour,
Not for just a day,
Not for just a year but - Always.

Congratulations, Katie!
We are so proud of you and all that you have accomplished.

Love - Always,
Dad, Mom, Patrick and Megan

Congratulations, Erica.

II Timothy 4:7,8

We are all so proud of you and your accomplishment.

By graduating from Regis College you have demonstrated a strong commitment academically and personally. You have taken a giant step toward the realization of your goal and dream to teach.

We are blessed to know you and we thank God for giving us such a wonderful gift. May you always maintain your sense of humor, passion to teach and love for people.

We pray God's richest blessings on your life and that your desire for Him will increase daily.

All our love
Dad, Mom, Matthew
Holly, Gram & Brenda

Sarah,
You continue to amaze us every day. Congratulations on achieving the goal you set for yourself four years ago. We are so proud of you!

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Nicole

Daughters do wonderful things.

Not the wonderful things you expected

them to do.

Different things.

Astonishing things.

Better than you ever dreamed.

~Marion C. Garretty~

The Voice by Shel Silverstein:

Courtni,
There is a voice inside of you,
That whispers all day long,
"I feel that this is right for me,
I know that this is wrong."
No teacher, preacher, parent, friend
Or wise man can decide
What's right for you- just listen to
The Voice that speaks inside.

Continue to follow your dreams.
Congratulations!

Love,
Mom, Dad, Tristan, and Jenni

Congratulations, Holly!

We are so proud of you, Holly, for all that you have accomplished. Working hard really paid off. We knew you could do it.

Mom, Dad, Chris and your family dreamed of this day just like you have.

We Love you Holly with all our heart,
Mom, Dad, Chris, Simba and family.

Some men see things as they are and ask why. Others dream things that never were and ask why not.

~George Bernard Shaw

Caro,
Thank you for making it so far, this is only the beginning. We are very proud of you!
Love,
Mami

Dear Katie,

You have grown into a beautiful young lady over the past four years. We are so proud of all your accomplishments. We love you very much. Continue to follow your dreams.

With much love,
Dad, Mom, Greg

Congratulations, Andrea

We are so proud of you,
we love you with all of our hearts.
Reach for the stars.

Love,
Mom, Dad and Lisa

KC,

Great times, sad times; Stress times, fun times. Comfortable times but now new times and challenges await. Embrace and live life as only YOU would. Congratulations on your degree. Proud doesn't come close to how we all feel about you!

Love you so much, Nan, Mommy and Dad

Congratulations, Amy!

You've tried your best and now you've seen it through. Always know how proud we are and have always been of the special woman you are. May God always bless you.

We love you,
Mom & Dad
Christine, Laurie, Jennifer, Nicholas, Scott, Mike, Timmy, Jeffrey & the Twins.

Johanna,
You're a very special person who has made a beautiful difference in the lives of those around you. Not only are you wonderful, but you have been wonderfully made by God the Creator. You have worked with firm perseverance and with pride for this great accomplishment.
We love you.
Mom, Dad, Jonathan, Janine,
Zachary and Family

It's so good to know warm, considerate people who try to help others in all they do, people whose lives show the meaning of kindness. It's so good to know special people like you. Congratulations and I am very proud of your accomplishments.
Mrs. Elsa Jackson and Family

Gillian Caitlin McClellan and the Class of 2003

The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams.

- Eleanor Roosevelt

To our shining star...A future of infinite possibilities and the courage to live your dreams.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Derek and Andy

ERIN,

On the day you were born, Mother Earth called out your name and the Sun beamed brightly. Each year your life has gifted our world with great beauty; you have made us grateful and happy to be a part of that life. May God bless you as you take your next steps in the dance of life. Listen to your heart. Follow your dreams with courage, confidence and enthusiasm. Know that you are never alone, for you are loved and always will be loved!

Your very proud and loving family,
Mom, Dad, Christopher, Andrew and Kodi

Jo,

In the face of adversity, there are many who fold up their tents and go home. The few with great courage and belief in themselves, like you, see obstacles as challenges and meet them head on. Your inner strength will bring you success in all you do. We're so very proud of you for all you've accomplished and it's only the beginning!

Congratulations, GRADUATE!

LOVE, MOM, DAD & FAMILY

Diana,

Believe in yourself and reach for the stars!

Love always,
Mora, Dad, and Andrew

Congratulations, Erica!

Our hearts are full of love, joy and pride for all you have accomplished!
Wherever your wings take you,
The roots of love,
In the heart of those whose lives you have touched,
Will always hold you close...
With your kind heart and strong spirit, we know that you will be successful in whatever you strive for! May you have a remarkable life journey!

Love,
Mom, Dad & Jason

Congratulations, KC

I am so proud of you.

And I love you very much,

NAN

Beeze,

You are and will always be my "Sun Shine." So very proud of you, again! Congratulations.

Love you 2 pieces,
Mom

Congratulations, Jen!
We are so very proud of you and all your accomplishments. Grandpa is smiling down on you in heaven. God bless!
Always remember,
"We Love You!"

With much love always.
Mom, Dad, Joe and Grammy

The young do not know enough to be prudent, and therefore they attempt the impossible and achieve it, generation after generation.
- Pearl S. Buck

We are so proud of you Shannon,
Love,
Mom, Heather and Taylor

Laura,

You are all any parent could wish for in a daughter. You are intelligent, caring, kind and beautiful. You are sensitive and loving and always ready to help others.

Reach for the stars. Live your dreams. May your future be all you hope it will be. Always remember how much you loved.

Mom, Dad, The Family, Midnight and Feelix

Patricia

Congratulations, Patricia. We are so proud of you and all you have achieved at Regis. Follow your dreams and keep on dancing!!

We love you, Mom, Dad and Jonathan

Congratulations, Shannon

We are so very proud of you! You have achieved one of your dreams, and, we know you will achieve many, many more! Keep following your dreams!
We love you

Mom, S'Dad and Colin

Juana,

We are so proud that one of your goals has been accomplished with pride and hard work.
You are one in a million and we love you very, very much.
Always remember, "think up!"
May all your dreams come true.

With much love,
Mom, Juninho, Aunts Lulu, Lize, Sandra,
Uncles Vincente, Marcos, Rubous, Binhu and Grandma

Congratulations gorgeous Greta!!!

When you were born, Dr. Perry and all the nurses called you gorgeous Greta. They were so right. You are not only gorgeous but you possess so many wonderful qualities. To mention a few, you are generous, sincere, kind, loyal and true. May God bless you and all that you do. May all the good deeds that you do for others return as blessings for you, your whole life through.

We applaud, appreciate and love you.
Love, XOXOXOXOXOXO
Nana, Mom, Dad, Coley, Laura and Lucky

Kristin,
There are many challenges out there that you are going to face. Be yourself and be courageous, I guarantee you will find your place.

Look ahead of you,
Your future is bright,
There is nothing you have to lose,
You are going to find the light.

All the wonders you seek
Are within yourself.

Love and Our best,
Lindsey and Mom

Maureen,
Listen to your heart. Follow your dreams. Savor life's experiences. Love generously. Accept love graciously. Go forward into your future with confidence.
Love, now and always,
Mom

For only GOD can know these things....
The day, the hour, the time.
But on this day I am alive,
And all the world is mine.

-Jill Warren (Chicken Soup for the Soul)

Today the world is yours, Mary Kate.
Let your Spirit Soar!
With Love,
Mom, Rich, Caroline, Jen and Dan

--Laura Jean--

this year has been omigollygee

WEEEEEEEE!

--loves--

Congratulations, Amelia

"What you feel is what you are and what you are is beautiful."

Keep it real and keep Representin'

Hugs and Kisses

Dear Mom,
Thank you for you undivided support and for making me laugh. If I could be half the person you are, I'll be OK.
Love Lots, Mimi

Congratulations,
Katie
I always knew you could do it!
Love,
Mom

Congratulations, Jennifer

We are so very proud of you and of all of your accomplishments and your dream to become a teacher. May all your dreams come true.
Love always,
Mom, Dad,
Christina & Teresa

Congratulations,
Kara!

You are the wind
beneath our wings!

much love

Congratulations !!! Hooray....We are all so proud of you, sweetheart. Who you are is God's gift to you. What you do with your life is your gift to God. "You were born to lead..so follow in His footsteps. You were destined to teach...so continue to learn from Him." Your diligence, perseverance, and hard work have paid off. Continue to set new goals and seek His best for your life. Where your heart is, there your treasure will be.

Love, Hugs and Kisses,
Dad, Mom & Dale, Grams & Grampie, Tata, Marion, Joseph, Michael, Ron and all of your aunts, uncles, cousins, teachers, and friends

CONGRATULATIONS, KIM

From the moment you danced into our lives, we've been proud of you. Always believe in yourself and follow your dreams!!

We love You!
Mom & Dad

Penney,
You have worked so hard and accomplished so much. You never gave up your dream. Go for the best life can offer and do not take less!!!!

Congratulations,
Love,
The Horne Family

Amanda,

You have soared!!! We have seen you transformed into an incredible young woman. We are so proud of you. We love you!
Mom and family

CHRISTINE CONNOLLY

Through all your tears and all your ups and downs we knew you would make it. You have gone above and beyond all the goals you had set for yourself in these past 4 years.

We are very proud of you and know you will achieve every dream and goal you set for yourself as you enter this new chapter in your life.

Love you
Dad, Mom & Danielle

Kathlyne Jean

Congratulations on your graduation. You have accomplished a major goal in your life, even though it wasn't easy. We are proud of you.

Love,
Mom and Natalie

Congratulations, Rachel
Given the choice -
DANCE!
May all your dreams come true

With love always,
Mom, Dad, Tina, Becky
& Sean

Lynne

"Go confidently in the direction of your dreams. Live the life you have imagined."
(Henry David Thoreau, 1817-1862)

Congratulations, we are all so proud of you, and everything you have accomplished. The best is yet to come. "Carpe Diem"

We love you
Dad, Mom, Rick & Marissa

Katie,
May all your plans you're making work out just right for you
May all your dreams you're dreaming and your future days come true
May each day be as happy as your graduation day
And may life always bring the best and finer things your way.

Congratulations,
Love, Chris

To my beautiful Girlfriend,

Congratulations on your Graduation from Regis and an amazing four years. Your future awaits you with endless possibilities and I will be there to support you, always.

Love, Matt

Girl Rule #17
Never forget your best girlie friends in the yearbook.

Congratulations to the student-athletes of the Class of 2003, The PRIDE of Regis College

-The Department of Athletics, Health and Fitness

Karrie Barber
Becky Brann
Laura Brooks
Shannon Callahan-Higgins
Elizabeth Cuff
Danielle DiMartino
Michaela Ellis
Sharyl Geary
Erica Glennon
Erica Haas
Mary Kate Huie
Sarah Lombardo
Maureen Mahoney
Amanda Mogan
Samantha L. Nay
Michelle Pereira
Kerry Phipps
Katie Sullivan
Holly Temme
Eileen K. Thompson
Nadia Torres

Woodside Texaco Service
Established 1946

305 Weston Street
Waltham, MA. 02453

office 781-899-4150 Fax 781-647-4260
woodsidetexaco@compuserve.com

Wellesley Trucking Service, Inc.

DISPOSAL CONTRACTORS-COMMERCIAL-MUNICIPAL-INDUSTRIAL

P O BOX 564
360 IRVING STREET
FRAMINGHAM, MASSACHUSETTS 01704
TELEPHONE (781) 235-2605
1-800-328-1116
FAX (508) 879-4171

DAVID A. DEBELLO
VICE PRESIDENT

(617) 719-8888 PAGER/TELEPHONE
(617) 254-2626 OFFICE
(781) 938-8209 FAX

CENTRAL PAINTING CO., INC.
PAINTING & WALLCOVERING CONTRACTORS
COMMERCIAL - RESIDENTIAL
BRIGHTON, MA

NINO PALCI
President

Mailing Address:
15 Briscoe Road
Woburn, MA 01801

Mobil

DAVE STRAIT

WAYLAND MOBIL
DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN
AUTO REPAIRS

315 Commonwealth Rd., Rt. 30
Wayland, MA 01778
508-653-4200

Towing
781-894-5058

KCR

KARPOUZIS & SONS
COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATION, INC.

REFRIGERATION • AIR CONDITIONING / HEATING • RESTAURANT EQUIPMENT
See our ad in the Verizon Yellow Pages

ANDREW D. KARPOUZIS

875 WAVERLY STREET
FRAMINGHAM, MA 01702

(508) 872-2500
1-800-225-5527
FAX (508) 872-4118
www.karpouzis.com

Interstate Electrical Services Corporation

Congratulates the 2003
Graduating Class of
Regis College

Professional. Responsive. Dedicated.
The Difference Is Attitude

70 Treble Cove Road, N. Billerica, MA 01862 • 978-667-5200
15 Cote Lane, Bedford, NH 03110 • 603-627-3230
58 Kent Avenue, Warwick, RI 02886 • 401-737-6100

Summer Rain
by U2

When you stop seeing beauty, you start growing old
The lines on your face are a map to your soul
When you stop taking chances, you'll stay where you sit
You won't live any longer but it'll feel like it

I lost myself in the summer rain
I lost myself
I lost myself in the summer rain
In the summer rain

Tequila and orange, Jamaica and rum
At Moorea honey on my tongue
In a small boat on a generous sea, let me be your enemy
Tiny hand, with a grip on the world
Holding our breath now, diving for pearls

I lost myself in the summer rain
I lost myself
I lost myself in the summer rain

Just as you find me
Always I will be
A little bit too free with myself

I lost myself in the summer rain
I lost myself
Now there's no one else in the summer rain
Raining down...

Just as you find me
Always I will be
A little bit too free with myself

It's not why you're running, it's where your going
It's not what you're dreaming , but what you're going to do
It's not where you're born, it's where you belong
It's not how weak but what will make you strong